SUMMIT LAKE PROJECT NEAR HERE DROPPED

Plan To Submerge Parts of Marion, Wyandot Counties Abandoned.

Creation of the Summit Level lake, at one time slated to be a backbone project in the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District's flood control and water conservation program, has been discarded, the conservancy district court was told yesterday in Columbus

The $19,500,000 project, which would have covered 45 square miles in northwestern Marion county and southern Wyandot county, is definitely out, district engineers told the 17 judges as the court met for its annual session Judge Paul D. Smith of the Marion county common pleas court is one of the 17.

They told the court the Summit Level lake project is not practical and does not give the reductions in flood stages desired for both the Scioto and Sandusky rivers. More effective control can be provided at less cost by other projects which can also meet water supply needs they reported.

Dams That Won't Be Built

Proposals as originally advanced by C C Chambers of Columbus, chief engineer for the district, called for construction of dams in the Tymochtee Creek near Marseilles and Carey; on the Sandusky river north of Little Sandusky and just south of Upper Sandusky and on the Brokensword creek near Nevada.

These and other dikes and dams linked by a network of channels between headwaters of the two rivers would have created the Summit lake, covering parts of four townships in Marion county and about one-eighth of the total land area in Wyandot county.

Would Have Wiped Out Villages

The reservoir when completed would have covered 13,000 acres in Marion county and 16,000 in Wyandot county and have submerged the villages of Marseilles and Little Sandusky, hemmed in Morral on three sides by water and have made Harpster a lakeside community. In addition, diversion channels would have been constructed linking the lake with Scioto river dams east of Kenton and near Green Camp. The original engineering plans were drawn up by the late Professor D C. Sherman of the civil engineering staff at Ohio State university in 1934.

Protest Group Formed

Opposition to the proposal crystalized in the formation last year of a Scioto-Sandusky Protest association comprising more than 60 farmers and land owners whose holdings in Marion and Wyandot counties would have been inundated had the reservoir been built

They registered their complaint at a hearing last fall held by the district court to determine the right of the district to increase its purposes. Following enlargement of the district's scope as approved by the court at that meeting, two members of the association, Mr. and Mrs David Sears of near Upper Sandusky, filed a petition asking that the conservancy district be dissolved

The court yesterday rejected their petition, hearing at the same time from the engineers that the Summit Lake project had been discarded from the list of projects to be included in the district's official plan.

MEEKER GYM CONTRACT LET

D. H. Boucher of Upper Sandusky Low Bidder on General Construction.

Montgomery local school district board voted yesterday to award to D. H. Boucher of Upper Sandusky the contract for building a new gymnasium at Meeker high school. The award was announced by Philip Baker, president of the board.

Mr. Boucher was low bidder for the general contract with a bid of $47,950. He bid $42,931 for the general construction, $1,500 additional for plumbing, $5,950 additional for heating, and an added $1,600 for electrical work. His bid is for a gymnasium complete except for seats. These will be provided later by the board Seating capacity will be 500 and temporary seats in the present Meeker gym will be used.

Details of Plans

The gymnasium plans, designed by Thomas W Rayburn, Marion architect, call for a building with outside dimensions 88 feet long by 58 feet wide, to be located 18 feet east of the present Meeker school. Construction will be dark red face brick outside walls mounted on cinder block, with steel truss construction and gypsum roof slabs.

The gymnasium room itself will be 58 by 72 feet with a stage at the east end 12 by 31 feet with a steam boiler heating plant and dressing rooms located under the stage. The design and exterior finish of the building will harmonize with the present Meeker high school building Entry will be from the west side of the building opposite the east entrance to the main structure.

Excavations for construction will begin as soon as possible, weather permitting. No date for completion of the building has been set because of delays caused by material shortages Architect Rayburn has already been advised there will be a delay of four months on delivery of steel trusses

Other Bidders

Other bidders for the gymnasium contract were for the general contract Baldauf Construction Co, bid $51,644.88 and Marion Contracting Co., $55,864; for the plumbing contract, Marion Air Conditioning $1,584 45 and Gessling Plumbing Co, of Lancaster, O., $3,750. for the heating contract, Marion Air Conditioning $6,111.30, and Gessling Plumbing Co $12,900 No separate bids were received for the electrical contract.

CHINA STILL HAS NO WORKING CABINET

NANKING, China, Dec. 21 — (AP) — Nationalist China today marked up another day without a functioning cabinet or a victory in its Civil war.

The shooting war north of the Yangtze river is almost over, qualified military observers said They reported government forces appeared neither willing nor capable of mounting a single large scale offensive north of the river, nor of stopping any mass Communist thrust.

Pro - government newspapers acknowledged Tientsin, major industrial center of North China, was "completely isolated" They reported heavy fighting in the outskirts Official sources admitted the loss of two rail towns on the approaches to Tientsin.

The governmental situation was no more encouraging. President Chiang Kai-shek let the day pass without taking action on a proposed new cabinet. Last night Premier Sun Fo handed Chiang a list of ministers ready to "fight on until we can secure an honorable peace"

More Snow Forecast For New York Area

NEW YORK, Dec 21—(AP)—A light snow was predicted for this afternoon and evening as the metropolitan area hopped out quickly from under a 19.5-inch blanket—third heaviest in its history

About a score of deaths in the northeast states were blamed on the storm which brought the season's biggest snowfall to many sections Sunday and early Monday.

Most transportation lines were running on time, or nearly so, and the metropolitan area's three major airports were in operation again.

The snow, which fell here for 20 hours, had turned to deep slush in many places — principally heavily-traveled thoroughfares—and a freeze threatened to impede the work of 20,000 snow removers.

MARION HARNESS RACE DATES SET

Matinee Club Events Scheduled for July 4-25.

The Marion Matinee club was awarded July 4-July 25 as its harness racing dates by the Ohio State Racing commission yesterday, wire association dispatches reported today. In all, seven harness racing tracks in the state were assigned dates for the 1949 summer racing season.

The Matinee club has not made any plans as yet but the club will meet next week to outline Marion's summer racing program, an official said

Other track dates include Troy, June 11-July 2; Columbus Trotting Association, June 13-July 4, and Beulah Jockey Club, Columbus, May 7-May 30 and Sept 10-Oct 8 The commission said dates for fall meets would be set at a later date.

Three Powers Set Up New Regime in Berlin

BERLIN, Dec. 21—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France announced today a three power government for Berlin without Russian participation.

The French commandant, Gen. Jean Ganeval, read a three-power statement saying

"If Soviet authorities either now or at some future date, decide to abide by the agreement to which the four powers are committed, the quadripartite administration of Berlin can be resumed.

2 DIE AS FIRE SWEEPS HOTEL

Three Others Injured as Blaze Roars Through Philadelphia Hostelry.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21—(AP)—Two guests burned to death today and three other persons were injured as flames swept a section of the Westminster hotel.

Ninety-five other persons fled the hotel after the alarm was sounded by a guest who discovered the blaze on the second floor.

Three former dwellings comprise the hotel, on Chestnut street west of 20th street in the midtown area not far from the Schuylkill river and the B. & O. station.

Names of the victims were not available immediately.

The fire was discovered about 5 a m. It swept most of the structure at 2040 Chestnut street, on the west end of the group.

A man and a woman, trapped by flames in their fourth floor rooms at the top of the structure, climbed to safety across a narrow, ice-covered ledge to a window of the building at 2038 Chestnut street.

The hotel is composed of three four-story brick buildings. Only communication between the three sections is at the first floor level and firemen said this was a factor in confining the flames to upper floors of the one building. The flames did not reach the first floor level

William McKinley, 38, asleep in a second floor room, was awakened by a rumbling, crackling noise and looked out the door to see flames spurting from an adjoining room.

Clad only in shorts he raced through the hotel shouting "fire!" and then returned to his own room for clothing, only to find he was locked out He obtained a passkey from the Night Clerk Frank Fetters, who had turned in a fire alarm, and returned to his room for his clothes

First firemen to reach the scene found guests fleeing the structure wearing any clothing they could grab. Remains of Sunday's 7.5 inch snowfall coated the street with slush and ice The temperature was below freezing

Screen Writer Wins Suit Against Studio

LOS ANGELES Dec 21—(AP)—Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer movie studio is under federal court order today to reinstate Screen Writer Lester Cole in his $1,350-a-week job and pay him about $75,000 back salary.

Judge Leon R. Yankwich, yesterday sharply criticizing Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of Major Producers, and upheld a jury verdict last Friday in Cole's favor after trial of his reinstatement suit.

Cole was one of 10 Hollywood figures suspended by their studios a year ago after they were charged with contempt of congress for refusing to tell the house committee on un-American activities whether they were Communists.

DUTCH FORCES SLICE REBEL LINES IN JAVA

Netherlands Marines Advance Speedily Against Republican Forces.

BATAVIA, JAVA, Dec 21—(AP)—Dutch forces appeared today to be slashing methodically across transport lines of the Indonesian republic in central Java

A Netherlands communique announced Dutch Marines have seized Toeban, a republican port on the north shore of the island, and moved to the outskirts of Bodjonegoro, a highway center 25 miles to the southwest

New Dutch forces landed on Sumatra today. The Indonesian republic broadcast an appeal to its people to carry out scorched earth tactics "to the utmost"

The Dutch landed forces at Bagan Siapiapi on the northern coast of Sumatra, directly opposite Bukittinggi (Fort De Kock), the republic's most important city in Sumatra. Bukittinggi is on the south coast. Bagan Siapiapi is 200 miles east of Medan.

Dutch troops, it said, captured Pati, on the coastal railway 75 miles west of Toeban, and Bojolali, inland gateway to Soerakarta, the Republic's second city.

Call It Police Action

The republic's first city and capital, Jogjakarta, was seized by airborne forces Sunday in the campaign which the Dutch call a "police action" against terrorists.

(The Indonesian office in Singapore quoted a clandestine Republican broadcast as saying "heavy fighting has broken out in Jogjakarta, in which 52 Dutch parachute troopers were killed" Armed revolts against the Dutch were reported to have flared at a dozen places in Java. The broadcast said Republican guerrillas recaptured Kebangjan There was no intimation of such actions in the Dutch-censored dispatches from Batavia.)

President Soekarno, his major ministers and his military commander in chief, Gen Soedirman, are in Dutch custody

The Dutch struck across Republican demarcation lines in both Java and Sumatra after announcing Saturday that they would set up a federal interim regime for Indonesia (the Netherlands East Indies) without the republic.

Dutch in New Area

The announcement of the capture of Pati was the first indication that Dutch troops were operating in that area, which is 30 miles northeast of the old line separating Dutch-ruled and Republican territory

Bojolali is on the main road south toward Jogjakarta Soerakarta lies 15 miles east of Bojolali.

The United Nations officials here awaited word of the status of 18 UN workers, including several Americans, in Republican territory. They were last heard from Saturday, when they were at Kalieorang.

A spokesman for the UN good offices committee said the security council has asked the committee to report on the military situation He said the chairman, Merle Cochran of the United States, was expected to take up the matter today (Cochran cabled the security council yesterday that the Dutch violated an 11-month old truce agreement in attacking the republic.)

Ireland Becomes Free And Independent

DUBLIN Dec 21—(AP)—Eire became a free and independent republic today

Ireland's centuries-long and often bloody struggle for freedom came to a peaceful end as President Sean T O'Kelly signed Eire out of the British commonwealth

O'Kelly approved a bill of the Irish parliament repealing the external relations act which had empowered the British king to accredit Irish diplomats

The act was the last slender constitutional tie between Eire and the British crown and commonwealth

Repeal Delayed

The repeal actually becomes effective on an "independence day" which Prime Minister John A Costello's government is expected to proclaim early in the spring

The delay will give the two nations time to work out a new alignment of economic and political relationships.

The English conquest of Ireland began with an invasion in 1169 and was helped by a rift among Irish chieftains. But it ran into stiff resistance

The Irish fought for freedom in 1598, 1641, 1649, and 1690. Then the rebels went underground for more than 100 years. They rose again in 1803, 1848 and 1867

But it was the bloody rebellion of 1916 and the guerrilla war of 1919-1921 which finally broke British authority The rebellion was planned by the citizen army and the left wings of the volunteers and Sinn Fein The actual fighting which was chiefly street fighting in Dublin, lasted a week after it broke out on Easter Sunday 1916 Fifteen rebels were executed

Black-and-Tans Used

In the guerrilla war that followed, Britain used the hated Black-and-Tans in an effort to hold her position (Their name came from the color of their uniforms) In 1918 Britain passed a military service bill which applied to Ireland It was never enforced but it rekindled independent fervor.

The Irish fought against British authority wherever it raised its head The counter-terrorism and activities of the Black-and-Tans greatly helped the revolutionaries for they created a hatred of British rule where it did not exist before and strengthened it where it did

Five Men Arrested In Yule Tree Cutting

MANSFIELD, O., Dec. 21—(AP)—Officials reported today the arrest of five Sandusky men in connection with the cutting down of Christmas trees on farms in Richland and Ashland counties.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson said two brothers, Dominic Fresch, 24, and Albert Fresch, 22, of Sandusky were charged with cutting down 100 pine trees on a farm owned by Philip Schmutzler in Richland county.

The brothers were brought here from Sandusky yesterday after a complaint was filed by Schmutzler in municipal court. They were released under $1,000 bond each for a preliminary hearing Jan. 3.

EACHES TO APPEAL ROBBERY CONVICTION

Richwood Man Now Imprisoned in Wise Robbery.

Notice of appeal from conviction on the count of armed robbery was filed in Marion county common pleas court today by Ralph Eaches, 32, through his attorney Paul G. Simpson.

Eaches is in Ohio penitentiary serving a 10-25 year sentence imposed here by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith after a petit jury had found him guilty of participating in the $3,000 hold-up of the Wise Super Market in August

Attorney Simpson, court appointed counsel for the Richwood man, indicated his appeal was being filed on questions of law and fact.

A jury took less than an hour to find Eaches guilty when he came to trial Oct 22 He had previously been indicted by the fall grand jury and had pleaded innocent to the count by virtue of insanity Subsequent observation at Lima found him sane

His attorney asked for a new trial Oct 26 and the court after holding the motion open for nearly a month during which his alleged partner Sidney Spurlock was tried, found guilty and granted a new trial, overruled the request on Nov 22

He was sentenced Nov 26. His companion is still in Marion county jail pending decision of the court of appeals on the request of James E. Reed, county prosecutor, to review the court ruling granting Spurlock a new trial

CHINA PLANE CRASHES

The actor died yesterday of double pneumonia and heart disease.

NEW $27,000 TRUCK TESTED

City's Latest Fire-Fighting Machine Put Through 2-Hour Operation.

The Marion fire department's new $27,000 85-foot aerial ladder truck was given its first tryout test between 9 and 11 a. m. today on Vernon Heights boulevard with Fire Chief Sifritt in charge. Mayor Harry L. Dowler, Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher, and Police Chief Marks were among spectators who gathered to watch the new fire fighter go through its paces.

Among the tests, given not only to try the machine but to familiarize firemen with it, was operation of a high pressure hose line, fed from street hydrants by one of the large Hanley pumpers, the line at full pressure firing its stream of water into the air from the top of the fully extended 85-foot aerial ladder. This test was employed to show firemen the facility of operation of the aerial in fighting fires in the upper stories of tall buildings, Chief Sifritt said.

Speed Is Impressive

Onlookers were impressed by the speed with which the aerial ladders were raised by the twin-cylinder hydraulic lifting device The ability of the giant ladder to rotate a full 360-degree circle while carrying a fireman and hose was the subject of much favorable comment by firemen and onlookers

Mounting the big ladder and handling of equipment at its base is made easy by the large 94-inch rotation platform at the base of the ladder, which revolves with the ladder. An important safety feature which keeps the big ladder solid when raised is the system of three manually operated ground jacks which extend on beams fixed to the truck holding the truck firmly in place when the ladder is raised. Large dual wheels and tires on the rear of the truck give added stability.

Other Equipment

The truck, which is 45 feet long and 8 feet wide, carries in addition to the 85-foot aerial ladder, eight ground ladders of both single and extension type, varying from 12 feet to 50 feet in length

The aerial is powered by a 12-cylinder V-en bloc valve-in-head motor of 204 certified brake horsepower, equipped with twin carburetors for quick getaway and high top speed In keeping with latest style of fire engine design, the driver's and assistant driver's compartment is located ahead of the truck engine The truck has a large windshield but no cab It is painted the traditional two-tone battleship gray of the Marion fire department.

The test of the new aerial was originally scheduled to be held at McKinley Park lake but because of overhanging trees which interfered with the operation of the aerial ladder the tests were transferred to Vernon Heights.

BURNS KILL WOMAN

16-STORY FALL KILLS FORMER HULL ADVISER

Expert on Latin-America Was Accused of Dealing in U.S. Secrets.

NEW YORK Dec 21—(AP)—A former State department official, listed in congressional testimony as one of six persons in the department who allegedly handed out secrets for Red spies, died last night in a 16-story plunge.

Laurence Duggan, 43, an expert on Latin-American affairs who served in the State department from 1930 to 1944, dropped to death from a window of his Manhattan office as espionage probers planned to question him.

The medical examiner's office said the circumstances of his death were "undetermined pending further investigation" Police said Duggan "either jumped or fell"—the usual preliminary report pending inquiry

Rep Mundt (R SD), acting chairman of the house committee on un-American activities, revealed in Washington that a witness had named Duggan in secret testimony as one of six people in the State department who allegedly had funneled out confidential information.

Called by Grand Jury

Duggan died on the eve of the scheduled appearance before a spy-hunting federal grand jury of Francis B. Sayre, former assistant secretary of state, whose office secrets allegedly were filched, according to testimony in another phase of the inquiry.

At the time of his death, Duggan was president of the Institute of International Education. The Institute, devoted to promoting international understanding and the exchange of students among various nations, was founded with aid from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

The President of the Carnegie Foundation, Alger Hiss—also a former State department official, was indicted on perjury charges recently on the ground that he lied when he denied before a federal grand jury that he passed out government secrets to ex-Communist courier Whittaker Chambers.

Adviser to Hull

Mundt said Duggan, who was an adviser to former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, was named by Isaac Don Levine, editor of the anti-Communist magazine Plain Talk, in testimony on Dec 8.

In a partial transcript of Levine's testimony, released by Mundt, the witness said Chambers had told former Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle Jr., that Duggan was one of six persons in the State department who allegedly had funneled out confidential information at various times.

Mundt, who revealed the transcript a few hours after Duggan's death, said "the testimony should speak for itself."

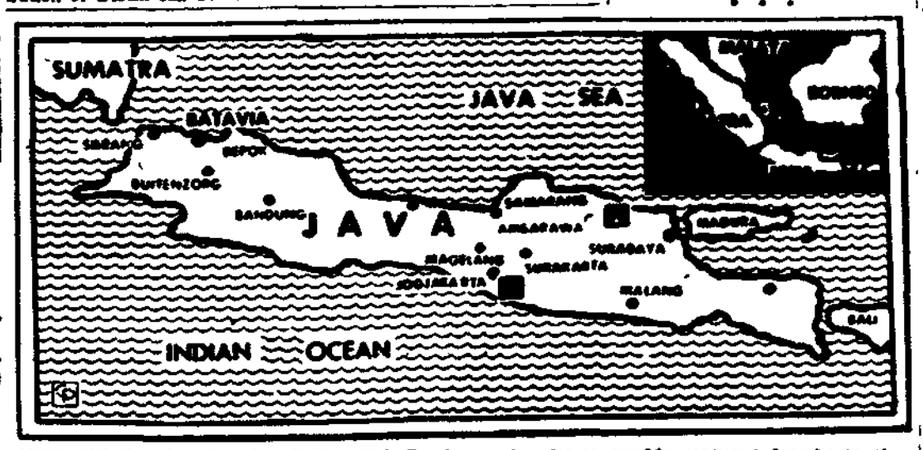
The congressional committee had planned to question Duggan, Mundt said, but had refrained from calling him because it believed the federal grand jury in New York planned to call him in its twin investigation of espionage. Mundt did not mention the time of any possible grand jury appearance by Duggan.

Five Ohio Murderers Granted Paroles Today

COLUMBUS, O, Dec. 21—(AP)—Five first degree murderers whose life sentences were reduced to second degree murder by Gov. Thomas J Herbert last Nov. 24, were granted paroles today. All are effective Jan 25

The five are Constantine Hamper, James Kiousis and John Kiousis, all of Cuyahoga county; Charles Garrison of Warren county and LeRoy Duty of Lawrence county

Reduction of their sentences made them eligible for parole.



ATTACKING BY AIR, SEA AND LAND Dutch invasion forces quickly captured Jogjakarta (1), the Indonesian Republic capital in South Central Java, according to dispatches. Dutch Marines, landing on the north coast, near Samarang (2) moved rapidly southward, while paratroopers landed at a big airfield near the capital city Planes were reported bombing both Sumatra and Java. The first attacks, it was said, were aimed at northern Sumatra, a republican stronghold. Map in inset shows the general area of action.

Religious Group Files Suit Against Board

BOWLING GREEN, O., Dec. 21—(AP)—Three members of Jehovah's Witnesses asked common pleas court here today to direct the Grand Rapids, O., school board to permit the religious group use of the village's high school auditorium for religious services.

The mandamus suit was filed by Hayden C. Covington of Brooklyn, O.; Victor E. Schmidt of Rossmoyne, O., and Joseph M. Greisinger, of Toledo. They said they were members of the east unit of the Toledo company of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The petition said the board had turned down the religious group's request for use of the auditorium although it has permitted other organizations to use it.

BUSHELS OF MONEY. Trenton, N. J., police examine literally bushels of hard money found in home of 84-year-old recluse William H. Higgins, found suffering malnutrition and gangrenous feet. It all came from 15-cent parking fees collected over seven-year period for space on lot on which his shack stands. Higgins was taken to a hospital. The board is estimated at around $10,000. The members were urged to attend and bring a new member to the January meeting of the WSCS to be held the second Thursday. Plans were made to assist with the church dinner in January and a Christmas and Thanksgiving offering was taken. Articles left from the bazaar held recently were sold. For the program Mrs. Julian Walker gave the story, "The Blossoming Rod" and Mrs. E. E. Thomas conducted the devotions. She also gave a reading, "The Stillness of Christmas," with a piano accompaniment by Mrs. Jack Danner.

Charge Over-Ceiling Rents Are Collected

CINCINNATI, Dec. 21—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cherryholmes of Wilmington were charged in a federal court suit yesterday with obtaining above-ceiling rents from four air force officers.

Stephen W. Young, Cincinnati area rent control office attorney, said Mrs. Cherryholmes rented apartments at ceiling rates but that her husband, who reportedly is in the furniture business, then rented furniture at extra amounts to the tenants.

Young, who filed the suit, described the practice as an evasion of the rent control law. The suit asked the court to require the Cherryholmes to repay $1,090 to the officers, who were listed as

Galion BPW Entertain at Crawford Co. Home

Special to The Star

GALION—The 32 men and 20 women at the Crawford county home seven miles west of Galion were entertained with a program and gifts Sunday by the Galion Business and Professional Women's club.

The program included selections by the BPW Glee club under the direction of Mrs. W. W. Koppe, and a Christmas story presented by Mrs. Loren E. Beck, Galion dramatist.

Oriental refreshments which the club left for the residents of the home were served with the evening meal. Each gift was individually marked.

The affair is an annual custom of the Galion club. Arrangements were in charge of the music committee, the radio and television committee and the international relations committee.

MOST INDUSTRIES SET FULL WEEK'S OPERATION

Marion industries for the most part will follow the usual program of working five days during the week between Christmas and New Years, it was announced at the luncheon meeting of the Manufacturers council of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday at Hotel Harding. An exception will be the Marion Metal Products Co. which will take its annual inventory during the week and other industries will maintain the present schedule.

Discussions revealed the outlook indicated another good year with no prospect of a change in general conditions. Boles J. LaMarche, chairman of the council, presided.

Snowstorm Turkey

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — Mother nature is slipping. She let the big city down this time.

Father Knickerbocker is again the world's biggest snow man. But the old boy wasn't knocked off his ear by the advent of winter this year, as he was 51 weeks ago.

Taken by Broadway standards, the giant snow storm of last Sabbath was strictly a low-grade production. It should have been tried out first in New Haven, Boston or Philadelphia before being brought to the big time.

Hal Boyle

Granted it was the third deepest snow ever to fall here—10.5 inches. But you don't grade an opera or a play by how many people crowd onto the stage. Nor do you judge a chicken by counting its feathers.

Compared to the high drama of the blizzards of 1947 and 1888, this year's snowfall was strictly vaudeville. Even at that it would never get top billing at the old Palace theater. It would be lucky to get a week at Loew's State.

Everybody in the Metropolitan area today feels cheated. Here they want the biggest and the best—or nothing. And there is a widespread feeling that the storm failed dismally to live up to the weather bureau's advance publicity blurbs.

THERE WERE A LOT of things wrong with it. For one thing it opened on a Sunday, a clear sign of mismanagement by someone. Who cares if it snows in New York on a Sunday? Everybody is already at home and up to his armpits in the Sunday newspapers.

And it was too well advertised. It lacked punch, drama, surprise. Even the dear old Long Island railroad, the commuters' delight, was ready and waiting. It only canceled 24 trains in the first 24 hours, and many a veteran rider will insist this makes it little different from a normal day.

The sanitation department, which a year ago was pretty much in the position of Custer in the battle of the Little Big Horn, this year got a head start. It had nearly 20,000 men out early, and almost as many snowflakes fell on them as on the streets—if we may stretch the point a bit.

Yes, sir, even a midget had to look hard to find a place to flounder.

TALK TO A SURVIVOR of the famous storm of '88, and he says:

"You call this paltry thing a storm? Why in '88 the snow piled up to second-story windows, and the East River friz clear across. You could walk on ice from the gas house district to Greenpoint in Brooklyn."

And as for a year ago, when the snow stacked up 25.8 inches before the weather bureau could say "th - th - th - thermometer"—well! That was an epic adventure.

The long voyage home took some people more than 20 hours.

Admiral Peary in his dash to the North Pole—why he had it easy. In darkest Brooklyn they were tryin' to buy snowshoes. In the Bronx they were using skis. In the long history of man no race ever faced and won through such a weather ordeal—or so the sons of the subway like to think.

That was a real four-star hit snow show.

But today Squire Rockefeller has his ice pond already swept clear. Everybody has to come to work, because the darned transportation systems are working. The streets are just a lot of slush and nonsense. And so is the storm.

• • •

WHAT CAUSED IT? Well, the taxi drivers, who know everything in New York say:

"It's the atom bomb. It changed the weather all around the world."

In any case, America, accept Gotham's apologies. We admit it was a lousy storm but watch us next year. We'll be back with a new one under better management. It'll be the biggest, deepest, longest, hardest, finest, wettest, coldest snowfall that ever fell.

Plans are already under way to use the Empire State building for a measuring stick. But as for the big snow of '48—let's forget it. Every producer comes up with a turkey sometime, and this one is ours.

IN COLLEGE CHOIR

Miss Alla Lee Robinson of Marion, a student at Ashland College in Ashland, O., is a member of the college a cappella choir which will be heard in a two-hour program of Yuletide music on Christmas Day over Station WATG and the standard FM network in Ashland, according to information received from the college. The program will be from 3 to 5 p. m. In addition to the college choir, the Ashland High school a cappella choir also will sing. Miss Robinson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd G. Robinson of 475 Forest street.

YULE PARTY HELD BY PERFECTION STEEL CO.

600 Attend Function Held by Galion Firm.

Special to The Star

GALION—A Christmas party was held for families of employees of the Perfection Steel Body company at the Senior High school auditorium Sunday afternoon with more than 600 persons attending the program.

Gifts were distributed to 532 children and special gifts were presented to 24 boys and girls who had won a "letter to Santa Claus" contest. L. D. Peterson was master of ceremonies.

He told the audience that since Santa Claus had not yet arrived, he would take his pick of the gifts. As two helpers were about to take away the largest package Santa Claus emerged from behind it. He was impersonated by Herbert Cobey, vice president of the company. Miss Inez Shier took the role of Mrs. Santa Claus. Elves were Helen O'Leary, Mary Goldsmith, Rose Emmenegger and Lois Dapper. The auditorium opened at 1 p. m., and during the seating of guests, carols and special selections were played by Ted Rehl, a student at Oberlin Conservatory of Music. Movies were shown, and a chorus was directed by Sidney Schultz who also led the audience in singing of Christmas carols. The chorus included George Doran, Ed Dougherty, Don Baker, Paul Durtschi, Raymond Behm, Herbert Black, Lloyd Jewell and Herman Derfler.

ERIE RAILROAD VETERANS AND AUXILIARY MEET

The Erie Railroad Veterans association and Ladies auxiliary met for a Christmas party and dinner Thursday night at the Snyder Hotel. The Harding High school string ensemble entertained with music and Miss Roxanna Pauling presented a group of pantomine numbers. Completing the entertainment program was a talk by Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, home service director with the Ohio Public Service Co. and two films shown by George Schwab. The pictures, presented by the Ardrey Motor Sales, were "Our America" and "Green Harvest". Prizes were won by Harold Thomas, Mrs. R. G. Henry and Mrs. Robert Taylor. E. J. Robisch was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the party.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I knew that Dicky's instructions to Katharine would not take very long. She already was acquainted with the problem presented by Roderick's bizarre appeal to Mary for two hundred dollars in ten twenty dollar bills, we have no secrets from Katharine I knew also that she would deal adequately with the problem of getting away from the hotel for the purpose of contacting the private detective, Dicky's staunch friend My work, already cut out for me, was to make Dicky's supposedly temperamental outburst appear plausible to the keen perceptions of Junior, of Roderick, and of Faith, no one of whom must get the slightest inkling of Katharine's mission.

Mary, always a "rock in a weary land," tossed me just the clue I needed

"What's the nunky been pulling now?" she asked with seeming carelessness. "Wanting to get out and make a tour of the city?"

"Not exactly," I told her, "but he is rebelling strongly against these hour intervals of rest on which Katharine is insisting"

"Strikes me," Roderick said, and again I noticed a certain cockiness in his manner which vaguely disturbed me, "that Aunt Katharine is being a bit of a top sergeant where Uncle Dicky is concerned. He has been a war time ace, also a flying field instructor, and has seen plenty of wounds He ought to know something of what he can stand."

"But he doesn't," I answered, smiling, trying to keep tartness out of my voice. "He's a worse patient than any of you."

"There's a nice edgy tribute," Mary quipped, but I hastened to qualify my remark.

"That doesn't make him very bad,' I said placatingly, "because, really, all of you are good when you're ill."

"Me, too?" Faith queried

"Especially you, darling," I told her truthfully, for I was glad to give her a word of unstinted praise instead of the criticisms I often am compelled to utter And she really is docility itself when she is ill.

"Oh boy!" Faith caroled. "If that isn't something' I didn't think I ever did anything right"

"Don't let your head swell!" her brother cautioned with a disarming grin at her, and Mary came to my aid again.

"Strikes me," she said, "that one reason Aunt Katharine is so strict is because the nunky does so much talking He's such a swell entertainer, and we all ask him so many questions. I'm wondering if it wouldn't be a good idea, if say, I related some of the funny experiences I had at the sanitarium —some of them were a riot, really—if Faith told some of the things that happened at her nursery school, and if the boys gave us some little vignettes of life at school Then Uncle Dicky would be listening instead of talking, and it wouldn't be such a strain on him"

I shot a quick, sharp glance at her Was she "playing both ends against the middle?" Did she perhaps hope that in the course of their chatter about the school, the boys might drop something which would illuminate our problem?

Her poker face told me nothing. But I caught a swift exchange of glances between Junior and Roderick, that made my pulses quicken with uneasiness. There was caution in the glances, and then Roderic spoke up quickly.

"I don't think anything we could tell him would be interesting," he said. "The school's all right, we like it, but there's nothing amusing about life there It's just one grind after another"

N.Y.C. ORDERS NEW DIESEL LOCOMOTIVES

NEW YORK, Dec 21—(AP) The New York Central and two affiliated railroads announced yesterday orders totaling more than $18,000,000 for new diesel-electric locomotives.

Most of the locomotives will be for the freight service Deliveries are scheduled for late 1949 and the first half of 1950 The locomotives will be built by the electro-motive division of General Motors Corp American Locomotive Co. Fairbanks, Morse and Co., and Lima-Hamilton, Corp

The New York Central's portion of the order totals about $13,790,000 The Indiana Harbor Belt railroad's share will be about $3,300,000, and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad about $860,000

Gustav Metzman, president of the New York Central system, said the new orders will bring the system's postwar improvement expenditures to more than $317,000,000.

Officers Are Elected By County Fair Board

Harry L. Beaver of near Green ... was elected president of the Marion County Fair board at ... reorganization meeting Saturday, when officers and committees were named and dates of the 1949 county fair set.

Mr. Beaver, who succeeds the late Green Baringer, will be assisted by these officers: William K. ..., vice president, Harley A. ..., secretary, and Clyde ... treasurer.

It was announced that the 1949 fair will be held Aug. 21-27, running seven days rather than the customary six as in the past.

Two new members were named to the board. Earl W. Seckel of ... township, who succeeds C. L. Kline, and Richard Baldinger, who succeeds his father.

The fair board building committee headed by Frank M. Foster ... that bids for a revamped coliseum will be received Jan. 25 at 8 p. m. with board members meeting at the Marion Production Credit Association office, 187 East Center street.

It was also announced that the annual state fair managers' convention will be held Jan. 12-13 at the Deshler Walleck hotel in Columbus. All members of the board indicated they plan to attend.

Named to the executive committee were Dr. J. G. McNamara, Mr. Davis and Ed Bender.

List of department heads for the 1949 fair is as follows:

Junior fair, S. P. Lauer and E. G. Fogle; concessions, Don Clements and Ed Fetter; horses, W. H. Rhoads; cattle, R. W. Zieg; swine, Gomer Johnson.

Sheep, Harry Hall; poultry, Richard Baldinger; vegetables, Earl W. Seckel; speed, Frank M. Foster and fine arts, Mrs. A. B. Augenstein.

The reorganization meeting was held at the Marion Production Credit Association office.

LABOR LAW CHANGE OPPOSED BY SENATOR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—(AP)—Senator Ives of New York put fellow Republicans on notice today he opposes the changes they plan in the Taft-Hartley act.

Ives, who played a key role in writing the 1947 labor law, said a report by the senate-house "watchdog" committee urging about nine amendments is an "obviously partisan" document. The chairman of the GOP-controlled group, Senator Ball (R-Minn) said a half dozen of the proposed changes are "fairly important."

Among the seven Republicans voting for the plan were Senator Taft of Ohio and Rep. Hartley of New Jersey, co-authors of the act. But Ives split sharply with the other committee members. He told a news conference yesterday:

"I am not going along with the report, partly because it is obviously a partisan report and partly because I don't agree with some of the things in it." He added:

"I feel very definitely that industrial and labor relations should not be involved in partisan controversy."

CRESTLINE STUDENT HELD IN COLUMBUS

OSU Sophomore Accused of Defrauding Merchants.

COLUMBUS, O. Dec 21—(AP)—A comely Ohio State university co-ed accused of bilking a downtown store of $2,000 by forging names to charge accounts of customers, was to have a preliminary hearing in municipal court today.

The girl, identified as 21-year-old Lillian V. Lightburn of Crestline, was charged with forgery late yesterday. City Detective George W. Deckard and Isaac D. Moore said the arrest solved a months-old case.

Miss Lightburn, a college of commerce sophomore, was taken into custody by store detectives as she attempted to obtain merchandise under a false name, Deckard said.

Store detectives did not reveal any of the names allegedly used by Miss Lightburn or how she obtained them. They said they had been investigating the case "several months."

Deckard and Moore said they accompanied store detectives to the coed's room Saturday and recovered much of the loot.

They said they confiscated about $2,000 worth of dresses, sweaters, skirts, costume jewelry, bed clothing and other articles.

Moore said some of the loot was in boxes that had been gift-wrapped, apparently as Christmas gifts for relatives and friends.

A friend, who described the coed as "quite popular," said her father, a railroad engineer, was killed in a recent rail accident in Pennsylvania.

Miss Lightburn returned to Ohio State last fall after several quarters' absence and worked part time in the university library, the friend said.

Miss Lightburn was held last night in city prison under $1,000 bond.

er all guests had escaped found the two bodies and removed them.

A man, tentatively listed as Charles Mabe, 51, was pronounced dead at Hahnemann hospital, of suffocation and third degree burns.

A woman, listed at Graduate hospital as Mrs. Madeleine Drost, 73, was pronounced dead of suffocation on arrival at the hospital.

Clemency for Daniels Asked by Parents

COLUMBUS, Dec. 21—(UP)—The parents of Robert Murl Daniels, 24-year-old convicted murderer of three members of one family, were to appear before the state pardon and parole commission here today to ask clemency for their condemned son.

Daniels, who, with John C. West, 22, of Parkersburg, W. Va., terrorized Ohio last July, is scheduled to die in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary Jan. 3 for the murders of John Niebel, superintendent of the Mansfield reformatory farm, his wife and daughter. West was shot to death at a road block near Van Wert July 23.

The commission, after today's hearing, will submit a recommendation for or against clemency to Gov. Herbert.

DEATH WATCH BEGINS FOR TOJO, 6 OTHERS

TOKYO, Dec. 21—(AP)—The death watch began again today on wartime Premier Hideki Tojo and six other Japanese war makers.

A 13-minute conference today between Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his top Army commander probably determined how long the seven condemned for war crimes have to live.

Tight military secrecy permitted only vague clues as to the time of execution. They indicated the hangings could come any time after midnight (10 a. m. eastern standard time), but possibly not before tomorrow afternoon.

The Buddhist priest who will accompany the condemned men on their walk to the gallows entered Sugamo prison this morning for the first time in two weeks.

(General MacArthur called a halt to execution plans two weeks ago when appeals carried cases of two of the condemned men to the supreme court of the United States. The court decided yesterday it was none of its business. That reopened the way for the executions.)

The Japanese press said the priest, Shinsho Hanayama, was prepared to stay in the prison "two or three nights."

After the 13 minute conference with MacArthur Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the Eighth army, who will supervise the hangings declined to discuss them. Details of the execution were completed some time ago, and all that remains was for MacArthur to set the day.

STUDENT EXPELLED IN SCHOOL FIGHT

TWINSBURG, O., Dec. 21—(AP)—A 17-year-old high school junior today was under expulsion for the remainder of the school term.

The board took unanimous action against Ronald Hegedish last night after a fifth grade instructor, Mrs. Ophelia Martin, declared the boy cursed her during an argument in a school room.

Mrs. Mary Hegedish, mother of Ronald, fainted after Mrs. Martin told the board of the incident. She was revived and then carried from the hearing room.

Ronald denied that he cursed anyone and asserted that what he said was:

"You are trying to make a damn fool of me."

He insisted that he did not use another expression which was attributed to him and which caused his mother to gasp and faint away at the recounting last night.

High School Principal Glen Powell faces common pleas court action on assault and battery charges brought against him by the boy's father. Powell is accused of slamming the youth against a blackboard.

The Hegedishes have the right to have an appeal heard by the board within 30 days if they make such application by Jan. 7.

The board voted unanimously to readmit two other high school students, Charles Gant, 19, a senior, and Richard Miner, 17, a junior. They are to be permitted to resume classes for a 90-day probationary period set by the board.

FOOD TRAINS ROLL FROM 13 STATES

DAYTON, O., Dec 21—(AP)—Christmas food trains from 13 states are scheduled to be rolling toward the hungry overseas by tonight.

The train loaded with farm produce collected through Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) will come from Colorado, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Ohio, Washington and Wyoming.

Eleven other states also are assembling Christmas food gifts for the needy of 43 foreign countries. These trains will leave later in the week.

The first trains, crop officials said, will carry about 60 per cent of the total commodities expected eventually from the 13 states.

Crop officials say total donations from all 24 states will approximate 2200 carloads of foodstuffs. As much as possible of the commodities will be sent to ports of embarkation by Christmas for dedication in shipside ceremonies. All were supposed to leave for overseas Christmas day.

The major reason for the shipping delay—and it doesn't make crop sponsors unhappy—is that contributions have been so far above expectations, crop facilities haven't been able to handle them smoothly.

POLICE QUESTION 2 IN GUAM SLAYING

GUAM, Dec. 21—(UP)—Police questioned two men in the slaying of Ruth Farnsworth, 27-year-old Navy civilian employe from San Francisco, but admitted "neither was a good suspect."

One, an unidentified enlisted man, was held for further questioning when he could not account for his whereabouts on the night of the slaying. The other, Terriel Baxter Meshew, 32, of San Antonia, Tex., was fined $55 for vagrancy.

Meshew, former civil service worker, said he spent the night of the murder visiting taverns. Bloodstained white sailor's pants were found in his locker but he said he did not wear them the night of the slaying.

Miss Farnsworth, "the most beautiful girl on Guam," died without regaining consciousness after being found bleeding and partly clad in the jungle on Dec. 12. She was the fiancee of Marine Sgt. Sterling McGinnis of Hardin county.

Police have asked that a lie detector be sent from Toyko to Guam to aid their investigation.

Japanese Labor Trouble Fades Under U.S. Policy

TOKYO, Dec. 21—(AP)—New American toughness ended current or threatened strikes by 834,000 Japanese workers today. Only the powerful Communist-dominated Electrical Workers Union refused to cooperate.

The "get tough" attitude of the U. S., designed to help Japan stand on its own economic feet, apparently stirred the diet (parliament) into action on long delayed wage increases for government workers.

The house of representatives approved a revised government bill to raise the basic pay scale of 2,500,000 government workers by 70 per cent. This will boost the basic average wage to 6,307 yen monthly. (That's equal to about $18 in purchasing power.) The present average is 3,700 yen.

NYC BUYS DIESELS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21—(UP)—The New York Central railroad and two affiliated roads announced today that they have scheduled orders for 123 Diesel-electric locomotives costing more than $18,000,000. NYC President Gustav Metzman said the orders increase the postwar improvements of the New York Central and its affiliated companies to more than $317,000,000. He said the bulk of the new locomotives would be put in freight service.

Wyandot Junior Fair Board Election Held

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Youth Advisory council met Thursday at the courthouse and elected 10 new members for a two-year term on the Wyandot county junior fair board.

Twenty-four were nominated by 4-H clubs, FFA chapters, FHA clubs and Scouts. Elected to the junior fair board were Ralph Oriana, Salem, Wayne Vogel, McCutchenville, Carolyn Parsell, Marseilles, Gilbert Murphy, Eden, Ruth Droll, Carey, Marilyn McLaughlin, Nevada, Wanda McAlpine, Harpster, Raymond Von Stein, Sycamore, Tom Kotterman, Nevada and Justin Flowers, Marseilles. Mr. Flowers was president of the junior fair board this year.

Alternates elected were: Boyd Franklin, Leighty, Mifflin, Richard Fairchild, Harpster, girls, Mary Blumenauer, Upper Sandusky and Marjory Koehler, Salem.

STOP AID TO CHINA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—(AP)—Paul G. Hoffman said today the economic cooperation administration had suspended all reconstruction projects in China. It had allotted $70,000,000 for that purpose. The ECA administrator told reporters about the suspension after talking with President Truman at the White House.

Men's Clothing Trade Puzzled

What To Do with Unsold Suits Causes Argument on Clothing Row.

NEW YORK, Dec 21—(AP)—If you're wondering whether your suit'll keep out the winter wind a little longer, you'll enjoy eavesdropping on all the talk down on clothing row.

The men's clothing trade is having quite an argument with itself these days—about you.

It seems you didn't buy as many suits last fall as the cutters made. And now there are quite a lot of men's suits still hanging on the store racks. The question is whether you will buy these same suits next fall, if the store holds them over. Or whether you should be enticed into the store now by special mark-down sales.

The traditional way of doing business is to regard men's suits as staples. Because you are slow to accept style changes "staple" suits can be pushed to the back of the rack and pulled out again next fall for you to rub between your fingers.

Women's clothing, on the other hand, is put on sale at the end of the season, because changing fashions and whims rule them out as "staples."

The argument over cutting prices of men's suits isn't all idle chatter. It's pretty keen just now because some stores have already cut prices. Others believe that men who want suits are staying away because they hope for post-Christmas clothing sales.

Merchants who haven't cut prices, and who say they aren't going to, contend that many of the suit sales so far have been of "distress" goods and not of "regulars," which they define as standard, good quality suits which can be held over from season to season as "staples."

The excess or distress supply on the market is admitted by most sources. The market planning service of the National Credit Office, Inc., says production of men's suits in the first nine months of this year topped retail sales by 11 per cent.

Some are worried by that. Others say it merely means the industry is back to "normal," that the boom days of unusual pent-up demand are over, and that from now on the making and selling of suits will work back into the state of uneasy balance that obtains in private business when the law of supply and demand operates uncontrolled.

The New York Clothing Manufacturers Exchange enters the argument with a warning to retailers that if they cut prices now to move out present stock they mustn't hope to replenish at lower prices later. The exchange says the costs of making a suit can't be lowered and spring prices will be as high or higher than last fall's.

Trinity Church Shows Nativity Scenes Nightly

Different classes of Trinity Baptist church are sponsoring the nightly living scenes of the nativity which are being shown this week in front of the church. Setting for the scenes is the church side on the north front lawn facing on South Main street. A large yard light will be used to illuminate the scenes. Members representing the Holy Family, angels and shepherds as well as animals appear with a background of recorded music and lighting effects. About 200 onlookers viewed the tableau last night.

In charge of the CIC class the scenes last night, in which shepherds had Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Lamer Myers as Mary and Joseph, and Mrs. Louise Somerlot and Mrs. Ella Oiler portrayed the angels. A live donkey was used in the scenes. For tonight's scenes in charge of the Cornerstone class Mr. and Mrs. William Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jennings will represent Mary and Joseph. Mrs. Richard Putney and Mr. L. E. Gerard will be the angels and shepherds will be Richard Putney, Floyd Arthur, John Cottrell and Eric Williams. Live sheep and donkey will be in the scene also. Mrs. J. B. Holloway is directing the production. Scenes of which will be shown at the designated hours through Christmas eve.

The use of envelopes for mailing purposes began about 100 years ago.

Triangle Motorcycle Club Has Yule Party

Members of the Triangle Motorcycle club entertained their wives and children Friday evening at the clubhouse with their annual Christmas party. The club house was decorated with a large tree for Santa when he arrived at 10 p. m. He had a gift for everyone and remained for an hour to chat with the children. Santa also had the pleasure of presenting a wedding gift to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilson and Miss June Butterman who were married Thursday evening, Dec. 16, 1948. The evening was spent socially and topped off with a large pot-luck supper furnished by the Triangle Hecklers club.

Officers Installed By Job's Daughters

Semi-annual installation of newly-elected officers of Marion Bethel No. 2 Job's Daughters, was held Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple followed by a dance for members of the Bethel and their guests.

Miss Jo Anne Saull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Saull of North Greenwood street, was installed as honored queen. Her father gave the obligation at the altar and she was presented a white Bible as a gift from her parents. The presentation was made at the altar by Mrs. Genevieve White. She was presented the gavel by Frank Hall, master councilor of the Order of DeMolay here.

Elective and appointive officers installed with Miss Saull were: Miss Marilyn Gigg, senior princess; Miss Sue Sparks, junior princess; Miss Jill Pritchel, guine; Miss Janet Reece, marshal; Miss Rae Fetter, first messenger; Miss Frances Burnell, second messenger; Miss Barbara Weber, third messenger; Miss Betty Roberts, fourth messenger; Miss Gloria Connor, fifth messenger; Miss Pat Burke, chaplain; Miss Nan Lee Douthett, senior custodian; Miss Roxanna Pauling, junior custodian; Miss Sue Swink, treasurer; Miss Connie Jerew, librarian; Miss Shirley Geissler, musician; Miss Joan Bayles, recorder; Miss Shirley Fetter, inner guard, and Miss Barbara Bull, outer guard.

Serving as installing officers were Miss Clara Jane Frederick, honored queen; Miss Carolyn Creager, recorder; Miss Joan White, chaplain; Miss Ann LaMarche, guide; Miss Helen Moore, marshall; Miss Ruth Vail, senior custodian; Miss Marilyn Fields, junior custodian; Miss Charlene Long, musician, and Miss Mary Lusk, soloist.

The candles on the altar were lighted by Miss Shirley Arbogast and Miss Doris Clapsaddle.

For the dance, decorations were carried out in keeping with the Christmas holiday theme. One hundred and eight couples danced from 9 to 12 to music by Ken Myers and his orchestra of Columbus. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Children's Yule Party Held by Legion Post

A Christmas party was held by Marion Gl Post No. 554 American Legion and the auxiliary to the post Monday night in the post club rooms at the rear of the Midway restaurant with about 80 children present.

With Dan Medic at the piano, Christmas carols were sung by the group and movies were shown by Capt. R. F. DeFrato and Sgt. Charles L. Bourware of the Army and Air Force recruiting service. Later in the evening, Santa Claus arrived with gifts for each of the children. Refreshments were served.

Christmas Program Presented by PTA

Music of the Christmas season made up the program at a meeting of the Olney Avenue PTA Thursday afternoon at the school. Mrs. Charles Jenkins presided and Mrs. Delmo Gorerflo gave devotions, reading the Christmas story from Luke. Each school grade sang three numbers then the entire group sang carols, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Edgar. Mrs. Kathryn O'Dowda's fifth grade won the award for most parents present. Refreshments were served from a table decorated in keeping with the season. Pupils were given a Christmas treat.

CLEVELAND POLICE MOVE ON BOMBINGS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21—(AP)—Police Chief George J. Matowitz says his department is working night and day to solve the recent outbreak of bombings attributed to the policy racket.

"Nobody could be more concerned about these terror bombings than members of the police department, the director of public safety and his crusading assistant," Chief Matowitz told a meeting of city council last night.

The chief added that there were "matters being investigated by the law enforcement agencies which cannot be divulged."

Mayor Thomas A. Burke told the council the bombings could be stopped "overnight if this administration stopped an investigation that it has been conducting."

The mayor was referring to assistant Safety Director Alvin J. Sutton's probe of the policy racket and police bribe taking.

Burke added that there was no intention of halting the probe and that "I think before it is over we will strike pay dirt."

Authorities have contended that the bombings were the result of attempts to intimidate persons who might be able to give information on operations of the policy racket.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N BUNDESEN

Cause of Excessive Sweating

Excessive sweating in various parts of the body is common. It causes inconvenience not only because of the discomfort produced but also because of other conditions which may develop due to it

There are a number of general disorders which may be responsible for excessive sweating, such as toxic goiter, rickets, overweight, and the excessive use of alcoholic beverages.

Sweating also occurs with fear and excitement Excessive sweating can be made worse by certain disorders such as flat feet, by prolonged standing, overwork and the drinking of hot fluids All of these are more likely to cause sweating during hot weather

The parts of the body most usually involved are the hands, feet and armpits The palms and soles are often affected

The sweat may dissolve out dyes and other chemicals from clothing These substances may irritate the skin and produce inflammation The constant presence of moisture encourages the growth of germs In the armpits and feet, the sweat and the fat secretions may be acted upon by these germs and broken down into acid substances which produce a bad odor

Furthermore, in certain areas the moisture encourages the growth of moles, like the ringworm parasite, so that the skin is excessively damaged. It has been found, also, that warts are more common and flourish in persons who sweat a great deal

There is on one method of treatment which will get rid of this disorder in all persons However, good care of the skin is important in preventing some of the complications For example, frequent changes of the socks and shoes and the wearing of open shoes in hot weather will do much to relieve the worst features of sweating of the feet Flat feet should be treated by an orthopedic specialist. The wearing of light clothing should be encouraged

Drugs in general are not of a great deal of value but may be helpful. Bland powders, such as boracic acid, talc, or talc and salicylic acid may help to absorb the sweat Preparations of lime salts have also been found quite helpful

X-ray treatments have been found of value in many cases, but now and then they do no good As a rule this treatment fails when sweating is due to emotional disturbances Of course, such treatment must always be carried out by an expert

Attention must also be paid to the patient's general condition He should get plenty of rest and sleep and avoid overwork and emotional strain.

BOYS VILLAGE DOING WELL

Proud of Production Record on New England Farm This Year.

MILFORD, Conn., Dec. 21 — (AP)—The boys at Boys Village are feeling "pretty big" these days.

They not only raised enough garden truck last summer to whack about $200 a month from their food bill, but they canned nearly 1,000 jars of fruits and vegetables.

And, further, they've got close to 400 pounds of fresh vegetables and "We don't know how much" pork, beef and lamb in their deep freeze unit.

"Better than all that, though," says Rev. Baxter Howell, executive secretary of the home, "is the proud feeling the boys have from the knowledge that they produced it themselves."

Covers 82 Acres

Boys Village is an 82-acre farm with a big rambling farm house which offers haven to youngsters from six to 12 years who might not find it elsewhere.

It is operated by Rev. and Mrs. Howell under the direction of a group of Connecticut businessmen.

The boyish appearing clergyman is a farm product, as is his wife, and he said, "This, of course, has helped a lot."

The Boys Village "family," he explains, "is made up of youngsters who are hardship cases, not juvenile delinquents."

"We are non-sectarian," he said, "and as 'non-institutional' as it is possible to make us. The boys are treated as individuals and allowed to develop as such. They attend the local schools, go to the churches of their faith, have their own hobbies and personal interests as any boy does in his own home. It is just that they haven't regular homes of their own."

Proud of Record

Rev. Mr. Howell said that "all of us feel pretty big" about the self-help performed last summer by the boys.

"It has done a lot to make the village debt-free this year for the sixth time in its six years of existence," he beamed.

"Boys Village," he added, "is helped with funds and clothes and farm stock and such, by a number of kind, interested friends whose enthusiasm seems to stem in a measure from our ability to help ourselves."

EARLY BIRDS in aviation history, Dr. G. F. Myers, 83, New York, and Ruth Bancroft Law, 61, Boston, were among the celebrities who attended the Smithsonian Institution ceremony in Washington formally installing the "Kitty Hawk" in the museum's place of honor. Dr. Myers has been a pilot since 1909. Mrs. Law was the first woman to fly a Wright Brothers plane. Below, a Navy blimp and two helicopters hover near the Wright Brothers memorial at Kill Devil Hill, Kitty Hawk, N. C., as the forty-fifth anniversary of the first flight by the famous Ohio aviation pioneers is observed.

Inasmuch Circle Holds Yule Party

The Inasmuch Circle of King's Daughters held its annual Christmas party and gift exchange Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Warren Wise on East Church street.

Group singing of Christmas carols, with Mrs. Ethel Case at the piano, opened the meeting. 40 members responded to roll call, and devotions were conducted by Mrs. C. A. Eicher. A total of 80 cans of fruits and vegetables were reported sent to Maplecrest at Bucyrus.

Mrs. Eicher was in charge of the program which included a reading, "Sad Shepherd," by Mrs. Forest Plockemoser. A gift exchange was held. Refreshments were served at a table decorated in keeping with the holiday theme. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Wise and Mrs. Walter Dorsey. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. J. Dennison, Mrs. Merle Wise, Mrs. Ben Wiant, Mrs. George Wilson and Mrs. Alice McMurray.

General Electric Opens New Circleville Plant

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21—(INS)—General Electric Corp. of Cleveland announced today the opening of a new plant at Circleville, O., for the manufacture of slimline flourescent lamps.

The new plant, costing about two and a half million dollars, will employ approximately 500 persons when in full operation, 80 of whom will be women, a company spokesman said.

Slimline flourescent lamps are used for general purpose lighting and have proved especially popular in commercial and industrial installations, according to GE.

FOREST LAWN CHURCH CLASS ENTERTAINED

The seniors of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian church met with their teacher and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hogan of 472 Jefferson street Saturday night to organize the class.

The following officers were elected to take office Jan. 1, for a period of six months: Dick Seckel, president; Genevieve Everly, vice president; Charles Metz, secretary-treasurer and Rose Mary Hartley, reporter. The class chose "Scripture Seekers as a name. Meetings will be held the third Saturday night in each month.

Present besides the host and hostess were Susan Porter, Dick Seckel, Charles Metz, Rose Mary Hartley, Elizabeth Starner, Genevieve Everly, Margaret Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis. Ed Weaver was a guest. Games were played and Christmas carols were sung. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Betty Davis.

Charge Postal Worker Stole Seal Money

AKRON, O., Dec. 21—(AP)—Charles Wilson, 48, a part-time postoffice clerk, was arrested by postal inspectors yesterday on a charge of stealing from the mails.

Wilson was accused, Postmaster C. B. Webb said, of taking envelopes addressed to the Christmas seal tuberculosis fund, removing the currency and sending on any which contained checks or money orders.

Wilson pleaded innocent when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner W. J. Lamb. He was held to federal court under $500 bond.

Denver Communists Get Soapbox Right

DENVER—For the first time in the law-abiding history of Denver, Communists may hold political meetings and give soapbox tirades in the civic center.

An ordinance has been passed recently to allow groups to give political rallies in the center after they have obtained a license.

Previously, it was illegal to hold such meetings in the downtown park. Even President Truman had to get a special waiver of the old

December Slow Month For Recruiters Here

...s of Christmas and ... Navy recruiting station came to ... happy but the two Marion only once has he failed to ... recruiting station. For ... quota as December ... is not good. He has enlisted only three so far this month.

December is considered the ... month in the trade and ... seems to be no exception ... station on South Main street the ... Chief Engleman situation is a little better. Captain Carl T. Prusnek of the Marion ... Raymond DaPrato said the station should go slightly over its quota, but there is a reason for ... During December ... bug-a-boo month, the Army has cut the quota by 25 per cent at most all stations. Usually the Army's goal in Ohio is 2,700 men a month, but this month they hope to get 2,000. And they'll be happy if they make that.

Obvious Reason

Two obvious reasons for the slack season is no one wants to spend Christmas in boot camp. Any veteran will tell you there is only one thing worse than celebrating Christmas in boot camp, and that's spending both Christmas and New Year's day in boot camp. The food ... but the atmosphere ...

Commenting on enlistments Captain DaPrato said most men enlisting now are veterans and the majority are seeking duty overseas. He said that many men have come in seeking civil service but because they are young and as a good will measure toward parents the Army has advised them to wait until after the holiday season.

Chief Engleman Prusnek announced that up until this month his office has met or exceeded its quota every month during 1948. A total of 92 men ... signed through his station in the sheriff's office in the courthouse. Of these 77 were for ... terms for a three year period and nine were re-enlistments, and six were enlistments of 18 year olds for one year. The one year enlistment for 18 year olds alone is a new program which came into effect the last of July.

Quota System

At that time the quota system came into effect. The Marion station was allowed to enlist only so many men and no more. However, Chief Prusnek looks for his quotas to be increased the first of the new year. Certain physical standards have been lowered but mental and moral qualifications remain the same, he said.

Girl Scout Troops Entertain Mothers

Troops Nos. 6, 38 and 39, Girl Scouts, entertained their mothers and the troop leaders at a Christmas party Saturday morning at the home service center of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. The party brought to a close the series of six lessons in which the girls have been working to win merit badges of cooks, foods, and hostesses.

Guests included Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Mrs. J. P. McEntire, Mrs. Sally Clarke, Mrs. Anna Sansone, Mrs. Marian Evans, Mrs. Charles Redman, Mrs. R. S. Perry, Mrs. Basil Morgan, Mrs. Vera Roberts, Mrs. Hallis Brown, Mrs. Lindley, Mrs. Ralph Spyder, Mrs. Kathryn Davis.

The following girls attended the school which was under the direction of Betty Newton, home service advisor for the company: Shirley Ballinger, Veta Sue Davis, Patty McNaughton, Shirley Potts, Joyce Snyder, Shirley Townsend, Sharon Brady, Shirley Lindley, Vera Obenour, Janet Roberts, Wilma Taylor, Patty McEntire, Barbara Clark, Carol Morgan, Carol Jo Perry, Gay Sansone, Patty Redman and June Matthews.

Betsy Ross Auxiliary Elects New Officers

Mrs. Dorothy Howald was elected president when Betsy Ross auxiliary No. 14, to United Spanish War Veterans, met Friday afternoon at the Legion Dugout. Mrs. Fanny Call was elected senior vice president, Mrs. Madge Glosser, junior vice president, Mrs. Aletha Schultz, patriotic instructor, Mrs. Susie Wodert, historian, Mrs. Dolly Antinony, conductor, Mrs. Emma Campbell, associate conductor, Mrs. Mabel Poulin, Mrs. Pauline Platz, associate guard.

Mrs. Schultz, president, was in charge of the meeting which opened with the Christmas story from the Bible by Mrs. Hattie Richards, chaplain. Mrs. Mercedes Byrnes, historian read, an article on the Spanish American war. A contribution of $10 was voted for Boys' Village at Smithville.

Following the business session there was a social hour and gift exchange. Later the members were joined by members of Marion Camp No. 32, for dinner. The veterans were presented a treat. The officers will be installed Jan. 21 when there will be a joint meeting with the veterans.

Donations To Be Taken for Marion Bank.

The First Presbyterian church will serve as the American Red Cross blood center scheduled to open at 10 a. m. Jan. 20, it was announced today by James Mautz, chairman of the Marion county chapter's blood committee.

Approval of the citywide preparation for participation in the program was given by Donald M. Jones, national blood field representative from eastern area headquarters of the American Red Cross located in Alexandria, Va. "It is typical of community spirit that a program of this size is ready for operation and contains all the facilities of larger fixed centers."

Pints of blood will be collected from local donors between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. on the day that the blood mobile visits Marion. Chairman Mautz pointed out that any healthy man or woman between the ages of 18 and 60 could donate blood but that minors must obtain permission from their parents or guardians. He stressed the fact that the collection procedure was conducted under the supervision of a physician and registered nurse according to the latest scientific specifications.

Blood collected here will be sent to the fixed center at Columbus and then ... and processing for use ... hospitals. ... additional blood ... plans a ... be ... local phy... and ... has through the ... the blood ... plan.

Participation in the ... is ... and ... committee headed by Dr. Dan Murphy. Complete approval of the program has been given by local medical, hospital and health authorities.

The national blood program is designed to give adequate supplies of whole blood and blood derivatives to citizens of each community participating in the program. There is no cost to the patient, however, there may be the customary laboratory charge by the hospital and the professional fee of the physician. Blood of all types in sufficient quantities will be available under the new project.

LOYAL WOMEN MEET

Members of the Loyal Women's class of Central Christian Sunday school was held Thursday at the church. Christmas carols were sung by the group and Mrs. Frank Fairchild conducted the devotions, reading the second chapter of Matthew. Mrs. L. W. Allen gave a reading, "The Harmony of Christmas." Contributions of $15 each was voted to the Emily Flynn home at Marion, Ind., and the Children's home at Cleveland. Miss Clark of Columbus and Mrs. Avis Clark were guests.

Harding Meets Rams At Home Tonight; St. Mary Travels

The Harding cagers will be out to give three victories in a row to fans when they play host to the Rams of Upper Sandusky at the Edison gym. Coach Kenny Somerlot announced today that ticket[illegible] are still available and may be purchased at Merchant and Lewis or at the game.

Upper appears to be a good defensive outfit but not too potent an offensive power. The Rams have won two and lost three but win or lose the scores have been low. This kind of team is never far behind and banks on suddenly getting hot and overcoming a small lead. Coach Somerlot doesn't underestimate the Rams. "They're dangerous," he said.

Smith at Forward

Marion cage fans will see a change in the Harding starting five tonight. Clarence Smith, football star, will start as a forward for the first time. Coach Somerlot said he earned a starting berth when he went in for Merl Daum in the Delaware contest and scored eight points in a few minutes. Merl has been moved back to guard where he can more effectively use his defensive ability. The other forward will be Bill Buckingham. Jack Daum will be at center, and Merl Daum's mate will be Dick Thomas.

Dick Wolfe who received his second rap on the jaw in the Delaware game will not see action tonight. He was first injured in the home opener against Galion. At that time it was thought that he may have suffered a concussion. Coach Somerlot said Dick will be X-rayed sometime during Christmas vacation.

Tall Forwards

The Rams will start a forward wall of men all over six feet. Their guards are shorter and so far their forwards have been their work horses. Roy Moses, center, is six feet and one inch and has been Upper's number one threat. Last week against Shelby he scored 16 points and has been the high Ram scorer consistently.

• • •

St. Mary Meets Pleasant

The products of two new basketball coaches will face each other when the Irish of Marion St. Mary invade nearby Pleasant tonight. Coach Treese Sharrock is piloting the Irish for the first time this year and tall Bruce Houchin recently took over the reins at Pleasant.

Pleasant has one won, one lost in Marion County league play while the Irish have a season record of two victories and three defeats. One need not be a crystal gazer to see what the pattern of the contest will be. Neither team is exceptionally tall but both are fast. The game should feature speed, passing, and a flurry of shots.

Coach Sharrock hasn't decided on his starting crew as yet. But the following boys will carry the attack: Bill Merchant, Jimmy Cusick, Bill Moloney, Ed Moloney, Corky Cusick, and Nick Maniaci. The starters will come from these men.

Coach Houchin has his lineup cut out for him because of his squad's previous performances. Forwards will be Jim Merchant and Dan Kinsell. Ernest Temple will be at center, and guards will be Merle Hedges and Dick Seiter. The squad is strictly a team play outfit. Pleasant's scoring so far has been almost equally divided.

VFW Takes Top Spot In Vets' League

Although none of the Marion County Veterans league games at the Marion Armory were close last night, the shivering fans saw some of the most exciting basketball to be played in the loop so far.

Company C laced GI Post, 49-22; Bird-McGinnis swamped Navy Club, 52-28; and VFW ran over Waldo, 51-31. The Armory heating plant had broken down and it was so cold the teams could just as well have poured water on the floor and played hockey.

The big game of the evening was the VFW vs. Waldo contest. About 30 Waldo fans came north to see their squad try to tie VFW for first place. Up until the last quarter the inspired Waldo men kept it close. In the final period, however, VFW began hitting the hoop and there was no stopping the league leaders. They sunk 16 points to Waldo's three.

After the game had come to a noisy close several Waldo fans protested to referee John Luginbuhl on the officiating. The argument was made in the heat of the contest, however, and soon forgotten.

VFW is now in undisputed possession of first place in the league with five victories and no defeats. The team's closest rival is Bird-McGinnis that boosted their record to four victories and one defeat with its trouncing of last place Navy Club. Waldo is still in third place with three wins and two losses.

North and South Teams Working Out in Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21—(AP)—Both north and south teams planned heavy workouts today in preparation for Mahi Shrine's all-star football battle in the Orange Bowl Christmas night.

North Coach Herman Hickman scheduled a morning session in shirts and shorts and an afternoon scrimmage.

Yesterday his squad lost a promising halfback when Dick Cramer of Rutgers broke his right collar bone during scrimmage. Dick was reported "resting comfortably" at Alton Road hospital.

Hickman said he expected four missing players, Terry Brennan, John Fallon and Bill Walsh, all of Notre Dame, and Thomas Chip Gannon of Harvard, to arrive during the day.

"When they get here, we'll be all set to go to work," he said. "They're grand boys. We'll be able to take care of those rebels in fine style."

The south team was equally confident Coach Andy Gustafson scheduled a morning workout at Flamingo Park and then planned to move to the Quarterbacks club for an afternoon session.

COTTON BOWL TEAMS BOTH IN DALLAS

DALLAS, Dec. 21—(AP)—The Cotton Bowl picture was complete today—Oregon was in Dallas working across town from Southern Methodist for their Jan 1 football date.

The Webfoots, 37 strong arrived last night from Eugene Ore. in a chartered plane to be greeted by Dallas and Cotton Bowl notables. The squad was whisked to its hotel for dinner then had a brief work-out under the lights at the high school field.

The Webfoots got down to serious business as they started two-a-day practice sessions this morning. Coach Jim Aiken called for a scrimmage.

Aiken said his squad was in excellent condition and ready for a wideopen game with the pass-minded Methodists in the Cotton Bowl battle.

Southern Methodist, which also has been doing plenty of rough work, reported two members of the squad on the injury list. One of them, Fred Goodwin, regular center, has a knee hurt that may keep him out of the Jan. 1 game. John Milam, pass-catching wingman, has an injured elbow but is expected to be all right by Cotton Bowl time.

Eddie Stanky Wants To Be Home for Holiday

MOBILE, Ala., Dec. 21—(AP)—Eddie Stanky is worrying more about getting home for Christmas than about his ankle.

An operation was performed Saturday on the Boston Braves' second baseman's ankle to remove two bone chips. The ankle was broken last summer when he collided with Brooklyn's Bruce Edwards.

The Mobile bone surgeon who performed the operation said he would have a "good leg" as a result of the operation. Stanky said he was hoping to get home by Christmas and that his doctor told him he probably would be walking again in about 11 days.

37,275 Deer Killed In New York State

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 21—(AP)—The 37,275 deer bagged during the 1948 New York hunting season represents more than twice the all-time record kill of 17,343 set last year.

The increase was attributed to two factors—the "open" season on both male and female deer in some areas, and a greater number of hunters.

Bow-and-arrow hunters who had special 14-day seasons in advance of the regular season in each area reported a total of nine bucks.

West Better In Basketball

Big Nine Supremacy Over Coast Seems To Do Cage Fadeout.

NEW YORK Dec 21—(AP)—The Big Nine kicked the Pacific Coast Conference boys around a bit during the past football season, but it looks like a different story in basketball.

Stanford, top favorite for the Pacific coast southern division cage title, took on Michigan the defending Western Conference champion, in San Francisco last night. The winner was Stanford, 53-51.

It was the seventh straight victory for the Indians and the first defeat in five starts for the Wolverines, who the past fall had what was voted the best football team in the land.

North Carolina State, the big wheel of the Southern Conference, for instance, took a trip all the way out to Reno Nev. and in a nip and-tuck game, North Carolina State won 49-48.

Two southern quintets—Georgia and Georgia Tech—invaded Madison Square Garden to take a licking from a pair of New York teams. New York university had to overcome an 11-point deficit to beat Georgia, 83-72. Long Island university topped Tech, 74-60.

The classy Oklahoma Aggies trounced Baylor, 56-40, and Missouri won over Southern Methodist figured to be one of the top teams in the section, 52-41.

William and Mary won its eighth straight of the season with a 53-37 trimuph over Rider college. West Virginia won No. 5 by drubbing Arizona, 61-58.

Illinois won its fifth game and avenged its only setback by overwheiming DePaul of Chicago, 89-51.

Bradley university kept its record unsullied with an 82 57 verdict over Texas Christian.

In other intersectional games, St. Mary's Gaels downed Yale, 74-69, in San Francisco. Notre Dame won its 15th game from Pennsylvania, 55-42; Nebraska thumped Duquesne, 55-49, and Minnesota won over Navy, 47-40.

Louis Shuffles Through Another Exhibition Bout

LEWISTON, Me., Dec. 21—(AP)—Joe Louis, completely master of the situation, shuffled through four fast exhibition rounds with Willie James last night.

About 3,500 saw the world's heavyweight champ outpunch and outmaneuver the Boston Negro.

For Louis it was the last stop on a 1948 exhibition tour that has netted him well over $100,000.

Joe's going home to Detroit for Christmas. Then he expects to hit the barnstorm trail again.

"I'm still young and I'm out to make money," was the way he explained it in a pre-bout news conference.

BISONS SIGN FREY

WAXAHACHIE, Tex., Dec 21—(AP)—The International league Buffalo Bisons have signed Linus (Lonny) Frey, veteran major league second baseman, as a free agent. The 36-year old Frey will receive a substantial bonus. A major leaguer since 1933, Frey hit .255 with the New York Giants last season.

Tag Team Match On Mat Card Thursday

Another tag team match is on the cards for Thursday's wrestling show at the Armory, promoter Les Fishbaugh announced today.

Steve Nenoff and Tom Bradley, the man who took the place of the late Ali Albi on the circuit, will meet Buck Weaver and Martino Angelo in the main go. In two preliminary 30 - minute bouts, Weaver will meet Bradley, who hails from Minneapolis, and Nenoff will wrestle Angelo.

Gerald Darnell and Bill and Al Nash will wrestle in the ten-minute kid go which starts the program off at 8 30.

Big 9 and Coast Relations Chill

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 21—(AP)—The cool war between the Big Nine and Pacific Coast conferences got a little chillier today.

There was no serious declaration of hostilities but a simple announcement by Head Coach Bob Voigts of Northwestern university, newly arrived on the Rose Bowl front, did nothing to add to the warmth of the Big Nine and Coast Conference domestic relations.

Briefly, Voigts said that from today on all Northwestern practices will be closed to the public and to football writers—all writers that is, except "our midwest writers, who can go and come as they please."

West Replies

This made a tremendous hit with California football writers, and brought a reply from Norrie West, director of Athletic News of the University of California. West said:

"Without even talking to Pappy Waldorf, I will say that all of the California practices are open to all football writers, including the midwestern contingent who are with the Northwestern team. This goes when California comes down to Riverside next Monday and resumes practices there."

The comment on the matter did not rest at this point after Voigt's statement of policy, which follows a pattern set up in general fashion by previous visiting Rose Bowl coaches. Fritz Crisler of Michigan last year did much the same thing, and Ray Eliot of Illinois the year before was on the sectional-secretive side.

Do All Right

Both Michigan and Illinois, it might be recalled, emerged from the Rose Bowl without damage—to put it lightly—and probably had enough secrets left to carry them through half the ensuing football seasons.

West, however, said his clients around the San Francisco bay region were particularly unhappy because few of them had the opportunity of seeing Northwestern this season, including the day last September when the Wildcats hung a 19-0 shutout on a UCLA eleven in Los Angeles—a suburb of the Rose Bowl.

In any event, witnesses at the initial drill of Northwestern—open to all comers following the Wildcats' arrival yesterday—were frankly impressed with the hugeness, the speed and the snap of Voigts' entire squad.

Big Nine Cagers On Pacific Coast

CHICAGO, Dec 21—The Big Nine's four invaders of the Pacific Coast—Michigan, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Ohio State—all step into action tonight against rugged opposition.

Michigan is at Santa Clara tonight while Wisconsin is at Southern California, Ohio State at California and Northwestern at U.C.L.A.

Other games tonight send unbeaten Indiana to Washington of St. Louis and undefeated Purdue to Drake while Illinois entertains Cornell.

Pro Football Loops Make Little Progress In Peace Talks

PHILADELPHIA Dec 21—AP)—The pro football war continued today with the National Football League meeting on its own terms and the All-America Conference rejecting peace at any price

After 12 hours of what was described as harmonious and friendly discussion yesterday, it was disclosed that the NFL wanted was the AAC's total destruction

After 12 hours of NFL huddling the champion Cleveland Browns — taking a stronger stand from the sidelines since the NFL offered to take his franchise and the San Francisco Forty-Niners into a 12-team league

But the AAC representatives had their own ideas of how to solve the three-year grid war that has forced many clubs in both leagues to lose money

Propose Two Circuits

M Brice and Ben Lindheimer owner of the AAC Los Angeles Dons, told reporters after last night's unprecedented get-together of the two leagues, that they proposed two circuits composed of 14 teams

The AAC group would like to add their San Francisco, Cleveland Los Angeles and Baltimore franchises to the present 10-team NFL, dividing the clubs into seven team American and National loops

Under the AAC plan, owners of the remaining teams in their league would be given an opportunity to merge or buy into going franchises. Details of how this would be done were not announced

NFL Commissioner Bert Bell and his club owners would have none of this

They were adamant in their demand for Cleveland and San Francisco and nothing else

Baltimore and Los Angeles in the All America League were the particular bones of contention

George Preston Marshall, owner of the NFL Washington Redskins was reported very cold on admitting Baltimore—only 60 miles away from his money making Redskins

Opposes Baltimore

"What do we want Baltimore for? We have enough of our own headaches without adding any more," Marshall said.

To this, Lindheimer countered, "Baltimore is the sixth ranking team in all professional football as far as income is concerned"

NFL Publicist Joseph Labrum read a formal joint statement which said.

"Representatives of the National Football League and All America-Conference concluded a meeting in Philadelphia tonight (Monday).

"Efforts by both sides to formulate a mutually satisfactory agreement were not consummated.

"The committee terminated the meeting with the expectation that future meetings might provide some formula for a common understanding between both leagues."

Meanwhile, the NFL and AAC went ahead with their draft plans today, 24 hours behind schedule The NFL draft session was in Philadelphia and the AAC's in Cleveland.

OHIO TEAMS SPLIT EVEN OUT OF STATE

By The Associated Press

Ohio college basketball quintets broke even last night (Monday) in a half dozen games with out-of-state teams.

Unbeaten Akron was upset Albion of Michigan 63-54 Kent State bowled Adrian of Michigan, 72-41, and Xavier downed Western Ontario 72-34

In the debut side of the ledger were Seton Hall's 53-47 conquest of Dayton Los Angeles Loyola's 42-41 nicking of Toledo and St Bonaventure's 48-41 decision of Ohio Wesleyan.

Akron, which now has won five straight, trailed Albion, 14-5, at the end of the first quarter, but was ahead, 25-16 at halftime and never was headed again Hank Vaugnn and Bob Walker each scored 13 points for Akron

Loyola came from behind in the second half to hand Toledo its second loss in seven games Loyola had a 42-39 lead when Toledo's Carlo Muzi sank a field goal with 40 seconds to play

Dayton, which suffered its fourth setback of an eastern trip, also faced in the second half Seton Hall trailed 23-25 at halftime

St Bonaventure maintained a narrow lead most of the way in stopping Ohio Wesleyan at Olean, N Y. The Bonnes were on top, 25-22, at the half

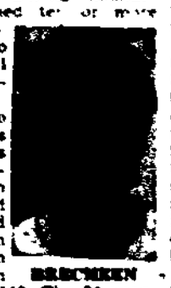
Xavier reserves played most of the game at Cincinnati as the Musketeers swamped the touring Western Ontario quintet. Center Malcolm McMullen of Xavier was high game scorer with 21 points. Xavier, which now has won three out of four, had a 41-12 lead at the half.

Adrian played Kent State on nearly even terms for a half, but the Ohioans won going away in the second They got 19 points in the last 10 minutes while holding Adrian to eight Kent led, 29-21, at the intermission.

Brecheen Posts Best NL Pitching Mark

NEW YORK Dec 21 AP) Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, crafty lefthander in history to win three games in one World Series posted the best earned run mark among National league pitchers in the 1948 season

The stylish lefthander of the St. Louis Cardinals allowed 58 earned runs in 233 innings for a 2.24 mark, tops among groundsmen who pitched ten or more complete games according to final official averages released today



BRECHEEN

Brecheen, who won three games for the Cards against the Boston Red Sox in the 1946 World Series, also led the league in shutouts with seven and in strikeouts with 149 The 34-year-old star won 20 games and lost 7, the first time he has hit the 20 mark in his big league career

Rip Sewell, 40-year-old right-hander of the Pittsburgh Pirates, won 13 games and lost three to finish in the best won-lost percentage .813 Sewell also sparked the longest winning streak, eight games He started his skein on June 22 and kept it intact the rest of the race

Righthander Johnny Sain of the champion Boston Braves was the circuit's workhorse Sain won the most games, 24 started the most, 29 completed the most, 28, hurled the most innings 315 faced the most batters, 1313, and yielded the most hits, 29"

Cincinnati's relief specialist Harry Gumbert, participated in the most games, 61, and finished the most games, 46 Larry Jansen of New York allowed the most runs, 125, and Murry Dickson of St Louis the most earned runs, 110 Dickson also served up the most homers 39, a major league record Southpaw Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati was the wildest pitcher, allowing the most bases on balls, 124

Rex Barney of Brooklyn pitched the only no-hit no-run game, stopping the New York Giants, 2-0 on Sept 9. Barney, along with Kent Peterson of Cincinnati and Sheldon Jones of New York, hit the most batters, six Jones committed the most wild pitches, 10

BOWLING

The local alleys produced a wealth of top-notch bowlers again Wednesday night with Rush of the Osgood Affiliated league hitting 245 to pace the city in single games. Caprino shot 500 to take the series honors.

Other high single games in the Osgood loop were turned in by Caprino with 229, Augenstein 214 and 209, Weis 210 and 201, Peifer and Tanner 206, Rife with two games of 205, and Kingsley and Callouette, each 200 Felter led the Business Men's loop in both departments with scores of 235 single and 599 series. Midtown Takes Lead In Independent Loop

The Midtown Chevrolets came from behind twice to knock off Martel, 52-48, and climb to the top of the Independent league last night on the YMCA floor A packed house also saw Schaefer Transfer down Green Sporting Goods 63-46, and Home Super Market win a thriller from Sally Ann Inn 42-41

Led by the 22 point matching of Gene Freet, the Martel men made a fight of it before going down to a late Midtown rally Big Bob Winterstein dropped in 12 out of 16 free throws and also dropped two buckets to pace the Chevrolets

The Sally Ann Inn vs Home Super Market contest was the one that had fans on the edge of their seats Both teams were tied at the end of regulation play, 36-all A three minute overtime was called and again at the end of this extra period the score was tied, 40-40. Home Super Market finally won in a sudden death period

1,000 Children Attend Eagles Yule Party

A thousand children and 200 adults attended the annual Christmas party of the Buckeye Aerie No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the lodge auditorium Monday night.

Local Eagles under the direction of Lester Watt presented an old time minstrel show as the main feature of the program. The Eagles quartet, John McAndrews, A. A. Ward, Robert Heimlich and Hubert Hoch, and the Eagles band, under the direction of Oscar Koehlber, were featured in the minstrel.

Santa Claus made a pre-Christmas appearance and distributed treats for each of his juvenile and adult fans.

Mr. Thayer has been associated with the Midland Service Corp. of Galion. The company has a five-county franchise including Marion, Morrow, Delaware, Crawford and Wyandot counties. They are located at 231 South Market street in Galion.

4-Way Video Screen

MULTIPLYING TELEVISION—Inventor Benjamin shows how.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI — A television model, suitable, it is claimed, for bus and railway terminals, hotel and theater lobbies, or anywhere where people congregate, has been developed at the University of Cincinnati by E. Burton Benjamin of Brooklyn, N. Y.

It has four screens in one-fourth normal size and can be encircled with chairs so that up to 100 persons may see the action, according to Benjamin. Another set, twice as large, can be made, he declared.

Complaints of people who like television but "found the set crowded when more than six people were in the room," gave Benjamin his idea for the four-screen model, he said.

Benjamin, a recent industrial design graduate at the university's college of applied arts, said the multi-screen model incorporates a selsyn system of remote control of volume and station selection.

A series of semi-silvered mirrors duplicates the projected image from the cathode ray tube, he added.

GIRL SCOUTS SING CHRISTMAS CAROLS

300 Take Part in Program; Visit Shut-ins.

The singing of Christmas carols in their various communities was a part of the Girl Scout Yuletide program this year. Saturday night, after singing at the homes of shut-ins and homes where requests had been made the approximately 300 girls gathered at the courthouse at 8 o'clock, where they presented a 20-minute program.

Later they went to Moira hall where approximately 450 girls and leaders were served refreshments and an informal program of carol singing was held. Miss Mary Queen directed the carol singing at the courthouse assisted by Miss Jean Wayman, Girl Scout field director.

The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Vernon Street, chairman, Mrs. A. Schoen, Mrs. William R. Martin, Mrs. L. L. Dickey, Mrs. Clark Fouts, Mrs. George Wolgamot and Mrs. Edward T. Huber, assisted by Mrs. Paul Bachman, Girl Scout commissioner and daughter, Barbara Bachman.

YULE PROGRAMS SET

Two Christmas programs, Wednesday and Friday nights, will be given by children and young people of First Pilgrim Holiness church at Bennett and Waterloo streets. The Sunday school program Wednesday at 7:30 will include recitations, songs, acrostics, and playlets directed by Mrs. Ray Brandum. A cantata will be given Friday at 7 p. m. by the young people's group. The public is invited to both services, Rev. George Poole, pastor announced.

THREE FREED BY GOVERNOR

Escaped Convicts Who Returned Given Commutation of Sentences.

COLUMBUS O., Dec. 21—(AP)—Three escaped convicts who returned to Ohio prisons voluntarily after years of liberty will be able to go home for Christmas as free men.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert yesterday commuted, effective tomorrow, the sentences of Mel Shane, 38, of Detroit, William H. Bucksbarg, 48, of Pittsburgh, and William Smith, 29, of Zanesville, O.

"You can call these Christmas commutations," Herbert said in announcing the clemencies. "All three of these men have clearly established their rehabilitation in private life."

Shane and Bucksbarg now are in Ohio penitentiary here, while Smith is at Mansfield reformatory.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis of Ohio penitentiary said that, while he hasn't been notified officially of the commutations, Shane and Bucksbarg probably would be released "right after breakfast tomorrow if the commutations read like I think they read."

Plan Trips Home

Alvis said Shane asked him to arrange plane transportation back to Detroit, while Bucksbarg wanted passage "on the first bus or train to Pittsburgh."

Shane became a successful Detroit businessman and labor leader after escaping from London prison farm in 1935. He was sentenced from Cuyahoga county in 1932 to serve a one-to-20-year term for possession of burglary tools.

Bucksbarg walked away from a trusty job at Columbus state hospital in 1922, four months after being sentenced to a one-to-seven-year term in Ohio penitentiary for theft of $50 worth of brass scrap in Canton. He lived in Pittsburg under the name of W. H. Dern, and reared four adopted children.

Smith, serving a one-to-15 year sentence for a 1941 Muskingum county burglary, escaped from Mansfield reformatory in 1942. He enlisted in the Navy under another name and, according to Governor Herbert, has a "good record" in the service.

Smith flew back to Mansfield and surrendered Oct. 18, 1948. Bucksbarg and Shane both fought extradition but later came to Ohio by themselves.

Extradition proceedings were completed against Shane before he drove alone from Detroit to London prison farm a year ago. He subsequently was transferred to Ohio penitentiary. Shane had slugged a guard in escaping from the prison farm. He was arrested in Detroit in 1946 on an anonymous "tip."

Bucksbarg, arrested in Pittsburg last spring, was fighting extradition before Pennsylvania supreme court when he suddenly appeared at Ohio penitentiary a few days ago "to get it over with."

Old Age Pensioners Meet at Eagles Hall

O. B. Christ, president, presided for a meeting of the Old Age Pension Society of Marion County, Friday afternoon in the Eagles' hall. Mr. Christ, who with Mrs. Christ, returned recently from an extended trip to visit relatives in Montana, gave a talk on his trip. He visited places of interest including Salt Lake City, returning home by way of Florida. He also spoke on "The Good Samaritan." The opening prayer was by William Landis.

The meeting opened with devotions and patriotic exercises. Mrs. O. B. Crist gave a reading, "The Mystery of His Will" and Mrs. Grace Hann, gave a reading, "Tobacco." W. E. Sergent and C. A. Ruth sang a duet, "Joy to the World," and a song by the group, "Jesus Savior, Pilot Me," closed the meeting.

LARUE YULE PARTY

A Christmas party for children of the LaRue community, sponsored by the LaRue Business Men's association, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. on the main street. For the affair a Christmas tree has been erected, and a treat of candy, fruits and nuts will be distributed.

Soapy water is probably beneficial to plants, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Dec 2.—(AP)—Price changes at the opening of the stock market today were mixed to small fractions up and down.

Moderate activity developed in several blocks of issues or the shares changing hands.

Du Pont, which shot up 8 points yesterday on announcement of a proposed stock split, started unchanged but soon moved up a point on the first sale and came back for a net loss of ¼ point on the third sale.

A few marked down were Santa Fe, Chesapeake & Ohio, Air Reduction, Union Pacific, Packard, Sinclair Oil and Cerro De Pasco.

Higher were Woolworth, Gulf, Republic Steel, General Motors, Johns-Manville, Douglas Aircraft and Standard Oil (N.J.)

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(UP)—Brown university scientists weigh their words carefully and literally. To learn the effect of temperature on the transmission of sound waves, they developed a device which measures in terms of weight and pressure of waves resulting from spoken words.

Radioactive Danger Found in Industry

CHICAGO — (UP) — Frequent medical examinations should be given all industrial employes working with radioactive isotopes, Dr Rex H Wilson, medical director for the B F Goodrich Co, warns.

Referring to the increased use of radioactive materials in industrial research, Wilson said "there is no pain or other sensation whereby persons can learn whether they have been exposed to ionizing radiation."

He recommended the use of either small pocket ionization chambers which sound a warning when too much radiation occurs, or sensitive badges made of film which could be developed at the end of each day to determine the amount of radiation to which each person has been exposed.

UNIVERSITY TO BEGIN PALSY TREATMENT

BOWLING GREEN O Dec 21 — (AP) Bowling Green State University announced today it will open a cerebral palsy center next fall.

The university said the center, for treatment of a crippling affection commonly referred to as spastic paralysis—will be the first of its kind in the nation.

Student's in speech and hearing therapy will have an opportunity to work directly with handicapped children. Patients will have the benefit not only of speech and hearing therapy but also muscular training by skilled physician and occupational therapists.

The Ohio society for crippled children is co-sponsoring the project, which will be housed in the speech building now under construction at university.

Cereoral palsy, physicians agree, is caused by injury to the brain at birth or through accident or disease. Facial distortions, excessive motions of the arms and legs and general inability to control the muscles are frequent characteristics of the disorder.

There is no known cure However, university officials said, a high proportion of children show a marked improvement with adequate medical treatment and physical training.

They estimated 8,000 Ohio children under the age of 16 are handicapped by the disorder.

Candidates Initiated At Grange Meeting

Candidates fgrom Montgomery and Tymochtee granges were initiated at a meeting of Montgomery grange held recently in the grange hall at DeCliff. The young people's degree team from Montgomery grange, captained by David Fogle conducted the work. Presiding in the various offices were. Joe Miller, master for the third degree, George Wilson, master for the fourth degree; Warren Kramp, overseer; Beulah Murphy, lecturer; Lila Harriman, chaplain; Mary Miller, secretary; Joe Sobas, treasurer; C M. Roux, steward; Edward Murphy, assistant steward; Betty Uhl, lady assistant steward; David Fogle, gatekeeper; Maybelle Fattig, pomona; Merle Hawk, Ceres; Winona Prettyman, Flora.

The drill work was in charge of Cletus Uhl. A five dollar Christmas Health bond was purchased and plans made for the next meeting Dec. 28 when the annual Christmas party will be held and there will be a gift exchange. Talks were given by Ralph Roszman, master of Tymochtee grange and Carl Williams, a candidate from Tymochtee grange. Following the work refreshments were served and later there was a square dance.

Yule Cards Over a Century Old

Two examples of American Christmas card styles in the so-called Gay Nineties. That at right is one of the designs of Louis Prang.

One of the earliest holiday greeting cards. As may be seen, it bears the date of 1842. It was intended to be colored by the sender.

BY CLARK KINNAIRD
King Features Writer

Most of the traditions now associated with Christmas are of comparatively recent origin. The roly-poly Santa Claus, Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" and Christmas cards are among the things which go back only a little more than 100 years.

The sending of specially designed cards in place of the usual letters of best wishes at the holiday time got started in England early in the 19th century. The first [illegible] was drawn by A. E. Jones well-known painter and member of the British Academy and sent to a friend in 1844 or 1845. It is there is at least one Christmas card dating after 1843 now standing A Merry Christmas & A Happy New Year to You inscription.

ARTISTS LIVED [illegible] missions by rich and wealthy to [illegible] missionary a Christmas card by a well-known artist was an idea that caught on quickly particularly after the publication of a card drawn by John Calcott Horsley another noted painter for Sir Henry Cole in 1846. It depicted a family celebrating Christmas with brimming cheer and temperance advocates denounced it as sacrilege. Next year many cards appeared and the fad spread to the continent especially to Germany where the lithograph process already had been utilized to reproduce works of art in quantity at low cost.

Louis Prang who is regarded as the father of the American greeting card industry came to the United States from Germany a century ago this year 1848 but did not start producing Christmas cards until 1875. Meanwhile cards printed in England had introduced the idea abroad. Greeting cards began to be sold generally in the United States about 1862. However they were crude in comparison with the artistic creations Prang introduced and made popular, and which sometimes earned an artist as much as $35,000 in royalties. Though Christmas cards are a $20,000,000-a-year business now, few if any artists are rewarded to that extent.

CHRISTMAS SEALS, now closely identified with Christmas cards in the minds of perhaps most persons were introduced in the United States in 1907. The idea was borrowed from Denmark where in 1904, a postal clerk originated this device to raise money for anti-tuberculosis organizations.

In Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands special Christmas stamps are issued by the government postal service. A premium is paid for them the government turning over the premium to the charitable organizations.

The traditions now grouped around Christmas naturally play a heavy role in the selection by the manufacturers of themes for cards. Candles, bells, holly, decorated trees, Santa Claus, old-fashioned coaches, stars, madonnas, herald angels and snowscapes are those always in demand in most places. However, for Florida and Southern California, and Latin countries now celebrating Christmas in the manner of North America, wintry scenes are taboo. For them, there are poinsettias, or sailing ships on smooth seas, or other subjects that do not recall the climate of the north.

VIENNA PEACE IS SKIN DEEP

Apparent Good Fellowship of Occupying Powers Masks Old Kremlin Policy.

Austria is cited frequently as the one occupied nation in which Russia and the western powers have continued to cooperate. Four-power patrols are pictured as each policing the city of Vienna. Is this outward peace more than surface-deep? The United Press sent Robert Musel, its London staff to Vienna to seek the answer to this question. His dispatch follows.

• • •

BY ROBERT MUSEL

VIENNA Dec. 21—(UP)—This lovely city with its long traditions of music, arts and peace takes no price in its reputation as the only place in the world where Russian - Western cooperation seems to work.

Its people have the feeling that the apparent good fellowship of the occupying powers here merely masks the same Kremlin policy that blockaded Berlin, engulfed Czechoslovakia and is restlessly pushing communism both in Europe and the Far East.

Allied officials are inclined to agree with the Austrians. But they do so regretfully, for here in the ancient capital of the Austria-Hungarian monarchy there is at least the semblance of that brave new world for which Russian and the west presumably fought Hitler.

American, Russian, French and British soldiers assigned to the international patrol tour together in fellowship. Friendly Russian officers nod pleasantly to the Viennese, in sharp contrast to the aloofness of the Russians in Berlin.

Speedy Decisions

In the allied council building on Stalinplatz, four-power decisions frequently are reached with a dispatch that underlines the incessant haggling which used to take place in the now-abandoned allied kommandature of Berlin.

Brawls between Russian and the allied soldiers, which would be international incidents if they occurred in Berlin, are quickly and easily settled by the provost-marshals, who fix blame and assess punishment.

But the picture doesn't stand up under closer scrutiny. It takes only a little talk with Austrian and allied leaders to discover that only a velvet glove conceals the Russian brass knuckles here.

There, for example, frequent Russian kidnapings of Austrian officials, scientists, and other leaders. More than 600 Austrians, authorities say, have disappeared into what Socialist newspapers grimly call "the big silence."

Top Austrian officials do not look to the Russians, however. They are Chancellor Leopold Figl and Foreign Minister Oscar Helmer. Both have said that the Soviet requests so often that their friends have begun to fear for them.

Have Had Warning

The western allies have had the known warning from Russia. It came last April when Soviet officials made motions as if to blockade Vienna as they did Berlin. But the threat never materialized. The western allies realize, however, that no such airlift as that to Berlin is possible here because both the city's airports—Tulln and Schlechat, are in Russian territory.

Austria, which was carved up after World War I is a little country with a population of only 7,000,000—less than that of New York City. But it lies strategically on central Europe's communications and its importance to Russia is apparent from a glance at any map.

Allied observers are puzzled by Russia's conflicting policies. What the Soviet Union gives with one hand by its cooperation in Vienna, it takes from the other by milking the production of 300 factories it took from German ownership in east Austria.

RICHWOOD SOCIETY MEETS

A meeting of the WSCS of the Richwood Methodist church was held Wednesday afternoon at the church with Mrs. Hazel Teets, president in charge. Group singing of Christmas carols was followed by devotions and prayer by Mrs. Pearl Evans. Final plans were made to serve the banquet for the Richwood Lions club ladies night party. The Christmas carol, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" and the Mizpah benediction by the group closed the meeting and a gift exchange was held.

Indonesian Triangle

THE STORY behind the story of the Dutch-Indonesian war, which has broken out again, is the eternal triangle of international politics. The Netherlands is one side, the Indonesian "Nationalists" on another side and the Communists on the third side.

As is customary, the Communists are allied with the "Nationalists," who want to oust the Dutch. As also is customary, this has created confusion as to the real identity of the real opposition to the Dutch. United Nations investigators have been studying that problem on the scene.

The United States, in the meantime, is inclined to presume that the "Nationalists" are entitled to the benefit of the doubt; i.e., that they represent a bona fide movement for Indonesian independence. As far as the Dutch are concerned, this is just as illogical as it would be for the United States to presume that the so-called Chinese Communists represent a bona fide movement for Chinese independence.

Therefore, the Dutch have decided to resolve the issue by having a military showdown. This will be construed as a move to impose Dutch imperialism on the Indonesians. But undoubtedly the Netherlands government has taken that into consideration and decided to use force anyway, perhaps believing that its moral right to do so will be upheld eventually by the United Nations.

Taft Won't Quit

AS NATIONAL politics goes, Senator Taft's statement a few days ago that he wouldn't give up his position as a policy-maker merely because his party lost the election is a little thing, but as coincidence in public figures goes, it's a pretty big thing.

There are some Republicans in congress and in other positions of influence who seem to be willing to change their positions the way they change their clothing—to suit the occasion. Senator Taft never has been one of them, which is the principal reason why he has been a favorite whipping boy for pressure blocs that prefer to have pliable politics to work with.

Senator Taft is a man of strong personal convictions. Some of his convictions have made him unpopular with conservatives, such as his conviction that the federal government's taxing power should be used to give local assistance to housing and education. Some of them have made him unpopular with labor unions, such as the one that unions should operate within the same legal controls that govern business. He has hurt the feelings of farmers by questioning their right to maximum parity benefits. Some of these positions have been bad politics. But no one ever accused Senator Taft of saying something he didn't believe merely because it might be good politics. His political integrity never has been questioned, which is just about the finest thing that can be said of a politician in an era when many of them spend their time figuring out where the most votes are, then getting there at any cost, including the sacrifice of their own principles, if any.

Deadly Weapon

WITHIN a few hours after New York City had been smothered by its third worst snowstorm, at least six persons had died of over-exertion. Casualties of this nature have become as common in snowstorms as fireworks accidents on the old-fashioned Fourth of July, or auto accidents on midsummer weekends.

The snow shovel, particularly, is a deadly weapon in the hands of those unaccustomed to the strenuous exercise it invites. Men who wouldn't think of shoveling a ton of coal if they weren't used to shoveling coal will tackle a ton of snow with vigor—and frequently with disastrous results.

There is a safe and sane way to deal with snow. The mayor of Boston mentioned it a year ago when his city lacked funds to match New York's multi-million-dollar snow removal project. Asked what Boston was going to do he said it would wait for the snow to melt.

Of course, that isn't always possible. But for snow that can't be removed by machinery, or at least by shovelers capable of wielding a shovel safely, the rule should be to take it easy. At the first sign of weariness in battling the stuff, just concede there's too much of it, pull up a chair by a window and enjoy it to the tune of "A White Christmas," which will be found on the nearest radio.

The famous U.S. China trade of the Clipper-ship era declined when the California gold rush drew fast ships into the round-the-horn passenger trade and other ships entered the trans-Atlantic field, carrying Irish immigrants from their famine-stricken country.

"Crow" Not Palatable

By David Lawrence

Truman Declines To Admit He Was Wrong

WASHINGTON

ON THE face of things it might seem that President Truman has now joined the ranks of those who do not like to "eat crow" and who do not like to acknowledge when they are wrong.

When Mr. Truman insists that the spy investigation is still a "red herring," and when he expresses that opinion not once but twice in the face of shocking revelations of secret files of documents stolen from the government by confessed spies, the curiosity of the public is naturally aroused.

In defense of Mr Truman it is being said, however, that he is not just a stubborn man who hates to be proved wrong about anything. He is not the kind of politician who follows the rule that in politics you never admit doing anything wrong.

What the President had in mind he doesn't articulate too well He isn't very good at fencing with the correspondents. He doesn't answer in long explanations but in short, crisp sentences and he assumes that his meaning is clear to all who hear him.

* * *

AT THE TIME Mr Truman made his first comment last summer about a "red herring," he didn't really believe the house un-American activities committee had uncovered anything of importance. He was told by department of justice officials that everything of importance had been investigated by the FBI and by the federal grand jury. He, therefore, could not see any purpose in what the house committee was doing except to get headlines.

Now, during the campaign, it was evident that the Republicans were trying to pin on the Democrats a charge of laxity in handling loyalty probes and firing Communists from the government. Conceding that the administration had set up checks for loyalty and had gotten rid of persons of doubtful loyalty, it is also true that the Republicans had done the prodding and were trying to claim credit politically.

So far as Mr. Truman was concerned, however, there was an unpleasant innuendo spread around during the campaign that he had overlooked the misdeeds of the Communists inside the government. He didn't like this. Actually he felt that the whole committee investigation was really a "red herring" to divert attention from more important issues. Having served on the famous Truman committee, he knew something about headline-getting. As a matter of fact, it was the publicity which Mr. Truman received as head of a senate investigating committee that won him attention inside his party and got him the vice presidential nomination in 1944.

* * *

THIS HAS NOT made him any more inclined to view a congressional investigation objectively, but rather corroborates his theory that inquiries are often used by members for "red herring" or publicity purposes. The committee headed by Mr. Truman himself and the house un-American activities committee can, of course, be shown to have served a public purpose—in fact, with all their defects in procedures, congressional inquiries are a powerful check on evils in our political and economic system. During the campaign, nevertheless, Mr. Truman struck hard at his critics and really coined the epithet "red herring" in self-defense.

But now, when the campaign is over, why does he use it? What Mr. Truman has been trying to say is that he has not altered the view he held during the campaign He still thinks what has been done has not been orderly and that the grand jury and the department of justice should do the investigating and the prosecuting. He isn't trying to belittle the exposures themselves but he thinks the department of justice is doing what should be done in that direction and that the house committee on un-American activities should let the prosecuting be conducted through the regular channels—the courts.

* * *

THE PRESIDENT is entitled to stick to that view. It is certainly not novel He resents the criticism that the department of justice has failed to act vigorously on the information available. He has a right to have hurt feelings on the subject if he is convinced there has been no skulduggery or attempts to evade prosecution of the guilty. He has such confidence in his own administration that his "red herring" remark is an answer to those who taunt him.

Mr. Truman, therefore, is probably much surprised to learn that a considerable portion of the public thinks he has lost the skirmish with the house committee, that he is not a very good loser at heart and that he is unwilling to "eat crow"—all because he sticks to his "red herring" accusation in the face of shocking disclosures.

The incident may seem trivial to some, but it will have its psychological influence on many observers who, since election, have been hoping a different Truman would emerge to rise above the petty squabbles of the day. In this connection, in an article in the current issue of Collier's magazine discussing the recent campaign, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross writes:

"Finally there was a purely personal motive behind his hard campaigning. He had been belittled and vilified. He had been described as a little man, fumbling, inept, not measuring up to the presidential job. He had the human desire to prove his detractors wrong. He succeeded and, I think, he will continue to succeed in the years ahead."

Lack of Confidence

From Barron's Business and Financial Weekly

Inflation is likely to be used as an excuse by unfriendly political policy-makers to hurt private enterprise, predicts Barron's National Business and Financial Weekly. "The greater are the real or imagined dangers of inflation," the magazine argues, "the more varied and ingenious will be the business-squeezing devices that the government economists will think up and advocate.. The cumulative impact might well be so great as to force increasing numbers of corporate managements to stop the expansion programs without which the present kind of boom cannot continue." This article is a clear summary of the reason why many investors lack confidence in the Truman administration.

* * *

IT IS possible that rearmament and foreign loans will take up such prodigious quantities of goods and absorb so large a share of the productive capacity for capital goods that a decline in private investment will make no significant difference In that case the country will have taken a major step toward that peculiar kind of socialist paradise which has been observable in other nations. It is one where everybody has a job but the standard of living cannot rise, and even slowly falls, because that part of production which should go into improvements is spent unproductively or, as would happen partially in our case, is given away.

A curious collateral effect of this political and social pattern is that it turns economic values upside down. Once upon a time the private investor found his most rewarding fields in the most essential industries. Grandfather's advice was always to get into a business which produced goods or services that everybody had to have Those were the lines where society needed the investor's money most and where his funds were therefore safest and most profitable

* * *

NOT SO TODAY. It is the essential industries which are punished, which are threatened with ever increasing regulation and whose margins of profit are most severely scrutinized and attacked The effect of today's political and governmental policies is to discourage investment in needed industries and to encourage people to put their money in the production of frivolities.

If your company is non-essential, if no one cares whether you live or die, stand upright or walk upside down on the ceiling, you might be able to sneak a few of the profits which nowadays are regarded as so anti-social. Nobody will bother you, as yet, if you make soft drinks, whisky, silk stockings or perfume, or furnish some form of entertainment. But woe to you if you dare make steel. It is inexcusable for an industry to be so vital that if it had not grown regardless of government intervention this nation could never have attained its present world position'

The leaders of the steel industry are human, like everyone else, including the little men who constantly think up new ways to torment the business. The record of those leaders is not perfect. But the simple fact is that the United States owes victory in two world wars to its immense supremacy in steel production. If this country had not had that preponderance, the Soviets would have overun the world by now. Likewise that preponderance was the only thing that prevented the Germans from winning the last war and the war of 1914-18.

* * *

THERE IS MUCH writing, thinking and talking to the effect that Mr. Truman is really a mild little man who isn't going to do any of the things he's been talking about. The people who regard him so lightly are making the same mistake as the Republicans made in the campaign. He is a very determined man.

When newspapermen asked him what policies the nation could expect, he referred them not merely to his congressional messages of the past year or so, but to everything he had urged upon the legislators beginning with September, 1945.

That was when he wanted wartime powers extended indefinitely into the years of peace He seems really to believe business is making too much money, and apparently he is convinced that squeezing those profits, far from hurting the nation, will actually help it.

Under the circumstances, it is highly unlikely that in the long run investors and corporate managers will like his policies, though the inflationary effects may make themselves felt first and may seem rather pleasant for a while.

Island To Get Chaplain

By The Associated Press

LONDON—The Rev. and Mrs David Ingles Luard, who first met on the remote South Atlantic island of Tristan da Cunha, are going back to live in the place sometimes called "the loneliest spot in the world."

The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel here is sending Luard as Church of England chaplain to the British-owned island, about midway between Capetown and Buenos Aires.

A Lot To Handle

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, Dec. 21, 1938.

The principal delegations to the Pan American conference agreed on a declaration of cooperative action against aggression, ending a 10-day dispute on wording between the United States and Argentina.

Frank Estill of Cincinnati, inspector for the federal civil aeronautics authority, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Aviation Boosters club at the Triangle grill.

Mrs. Fred Campbell was elected president at the combined Christmas party and business meeting held by the DeMolay Mothers circle at the Masonic temple.

Miss Mary Axe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Axe of East Church street arrived from Dayton where she recently completed her training course in Good Samaritan hospital training school for nurses.

Members of the teaching staff of the Oak Street school met for dinner at Hotel Harding and later went to the home of Miss Alice Sneckenberger on North State street for a gift exchange and social evening. Making up the party were Miss Sneckenberger, Misses Geneva Terry, Lottie Touchman, Martha Simmons, Robina Nichols, Mary K. Ward and Sophia Mack.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Dec. 21, 1928.

The first severe cold wave of winter arrived in Marion causing 3 30-degree drop in temperature to seven degrees above zero.

Miss Hildred Schroeter of Columbus was a holiday visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schroeter of North Prospect street.

Miss Esther Wood of New York City, official of the Women's American Baptist Foreign Missionary society, Miss Marion Wood, junior at Mansfield High school, arrived to spend the holidays with their parents, Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Wood of South State street.

M. A. Virden of Montgomery township was elected president of the Marion County fair board.

Miss Dorothy Snyder, student at Mt. Holyoke college, South Hadley, Mass., and Wilbert Snyder of Washington, D. C., arrived to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Snyder of Gurley avenue.

The Joymakers club of Salt Rock township was entertained at an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs Jennie Hall east of Marion.

The Delta Game-a-Bridge club was entertained at its annual picnic party and gift exchange by Mrs V. D Felt at her home on Marion avenue.

Oscar Ewing's Campaign

By George E. Sokolsky

I LISTENED on the radio to a group of newspapermen interrogate Oscar Ewing on his campaign to achieve socialized medicine in the United States. Oscar Ewing is a lawyer, formerly of the firm of Hughes, Schurman and Dwight, which is not socialized. He is now the head of the federal securiyt administration. He has also been a vice chairman of the Democratic national committee.

On the radio program, "Meet the Press," Oscar Ewing tried to switch the discussion to a denunciation of the physicians of this country who are raising a fund to defend what they believe to be right. Ewing is entitled to differ, but when he said the following, he denied the right of citizens to petition the ir government:

". . . Of course, the national physicians' committee is the most expensive lobby in Washington today. There is $353,000 that they spent in the first nine months of this year and is more than any other lobby spent . . ."

* * *

HE DENIED their right to organize to defend their rights or to promote their interests. I wonder if Mr. Ewing applies the same yardstick to Ed Flynn's Democratic organization in the Bronx, of which he is a leading figure. I wonder if he thinks it wrong for Flynn to raise money to promote what he wants to see the voters of the Bronx do? I think that that part of Oscar Ewing's argument was strictly phony. Note these quotations from the "Meet the Press" broadcast:

"Cecil Dickson: Do you know of any country that has more doctors in proportion to the population than the United States?"

"Ewing: I don't. I just don't know the answer one way or the other — whether there are or aren't. I can't tell you."

"Ernest K. Lindley: How much would that cost, do you think, in terms of the payroll tax?"

"Ewing: I don't—I can't answer you that . . ."

"Lindley: Supposing we had a depression a year after you put the program in effect?

"Ewing: Well, we'd have to—I don't know how we'd meet that. We might have to use general tax funds to meet a situation of that kind."

* * *

THE MOST ASTONISHING statement Oscar Ewing made that night was in reply to Lawrence Spivak, the leader of discussion on "Meet the Press." Spivak quoted Ewing as saying:

". . . Which is more important? The personal, selfish business and professional values of some 180,000 practicing physicians in this country or the health and well-being of some 68,000,000 of our population . . ."

Oscar Ewing said:

". . . I didn't mean that. So much of the public discussion on this thing is talking about the interest of the doctors and of what's going to happen to the doctors, but, my goodness, what's going on! It's what's happening to seventy odd million people all the time . . ."

Now, that is exactly what Hitler argued: What are a mere 600,000 Jews compared to the whole German people? That is how Stalin argued when he murdered the farmers of Russia whom he called the Kulaks. That was the argument of Tito when he jailed Archbishop Stepinatz.

The subject of socialized medicine is not merely a matter of the rights of physicians; it goes much deeper than that. If the doctors of the country can be socialized, why not the lawyers, the teachers, the newspapermen, the farmers or labor? If medicine can be socialized, why not steel or bread? If the argument for Socialism is good at all, it is good for everything.

CERTAINLY, DOCTORS are people; they are American citizens. By what legal right can the government force a man to practice medicine; or to practice it where he does not want to live? Will Oscar Ewing put doctors in jail if they refuse to live, for instance, in my little town of Sandisfield? Mr. Ewing, would, of course, say that he has no such thing in mind. Yet, Mr. Ewing, in describing the system in socialistic England, did say:

". . . The doctors objected to that and, then, a third thing, under the English system, the doctor was not allowed to settle in a community where there were too many doctors already, and they object to that, and there was a fourth objection. I can't remember what it was."

CROSSTOWN By Roland Coe

"Yessir I've been a good boy—in fact I've been so good I'm ashamed of myself!"

Seven Traits

College-trained men who fail at the first jobs they try after graduation usually can blame the lack of one or more of seven traits, declares Dr. Robert N. McMurry of Chicago. A survey by his management firm covering 1,167 trainees directly hired from college by 247 companies showed the seven most wanted characteristics of new employes to be as follows:

1.—The ability to stay long enough with a company to repay the investment in training.

2.—The ability to accept responsibility

3.—Perseverance, or the ability "to follow a path to the end," even if the path is unfamiliar.

4.—Self-reliance

5.—The quality of being agreeable to different groups and different persons

6.—Identification of his personal goals with those of the firm.

7.—And the ability to exercise authority without belligerence.

"Absence of these traits, or any one of them, indicates failure of an individual to grow emotionally," said Dr. McMurry.

Daily Bible Thought

We just do not notice, because we are so deeply concerned with our own interests. "Thou hast not given water to the weary, to drink, and thou hast withholden bread from the hungry."—Jb. 22:7.

It is difficult to say which may be most mischievous to the human heart, the praise or the dispraise of men.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The College and Big Business

A Congressional committee reports that American colleges are partners in real estate projects, chain restaurants, mail order houses, department stores, gas stations and many other enterprises One practically owns and operates a spagnetti plant and piston ring factory Another has money invested in a Limoges china and leather industry One of the biggest universities has apartment house office building and Radio City Center projects running into millions.

* * *

Our colleges have to invest their endowment funds some way and it is perfectly legitimate to do what they have been doing, but the charge is made that, since the income of educational institutions is exempt from taxes, the colleges are in unfair competition with business men and cost Uncle Sam millions in taxes every year.

* * *

About that we wouldn't know too much, but it is disconcerting to a man to find that the little lady he has been so tenderly calling Alma Mater is an industrial tycoon, a member of a dozen boards of directors and maybe a top distributor of potato chips, catsup, auto tires and lubricating oils.

* * *

Can it be that Alma, instead of being the dignified and handsome gal carved in marble on the lovely campus should be pictured with a prematurely bald head, a counting-room twitch and a strictly business look? Instead of a sweet and aloof lady interested mostly in the arts and sciences is she a holding corporation, an inner tube manufacturer and a promoter of chain lunchrooms?

* * *

Don't tell us that Dean Dumplin and Professor Highforrid have in truth been responsible for the kid's education but that the spaghetti, mustard, orange drink and real estate businesses have been a big help, too.

* * *

Down there on the gridiron is it possible that the lads have been giving their all for dear old Schlotz, Brown, Hallock & Whiffle, Inc., the Cronkhite Doughnut Machine Corporation and the Grand Union Radio Ornament Industry? Is it possible that the old grads should sing it "For Siwanikosh, for Country and for Whooziss's Refrigerators"?

* * *

These are disillusioning times We like to think of the faculty worrying only over a student's progress in philosophy, literature, Greek and mathmatics, and never in an all day conference over whether to put a few hundred grand into a department store, a row of deluxe apartment houses or a new tooth-powder idea.

* * *

Of course it costs money to run universities All those funds have to be invested where the return will be good. But we hope the paper isn't delivered the night the news comes out that Little Lester has had to be withdrawn from college because his old man couldn't keep him in and at the same time pay the rent, food and clothing bills sent in by the college's business affiliations.

VANISHING AMERICANISMS

"Let's all chip in 50 cents and make the present something good."

* * *

"The gentleman wants everybody in the place to have a drink on him."

* * *

"You can't do that, it's against the law."

Furthermore, any run of the mill movie actor gets $75,000 for a few weeks' work and doesn't have to upset nearly as many tables and chairs as Harry Truman did in his recent "Western," known as "The 1948 Election."

J. Caesar Petrillo, it would seem, has won the "juke-pot" on his own Stop the Music program.

We are all for the 2-million-dollar fund for musicians' welfare, but hope it won't offer too much encouragement to the guy upstairs who is taking saxophone lessons.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill—

Dear Nephew: As I write this I still haven't had to get out my sled or snowshoes. Who knows? Maybe we can write to our refugee friends in the subtropics: "Weather fine here. Sorry you missed it."

It's always a comfort to me when we pull through this business of the winter solstice without any harm done. Among the things I worry about in my spare time is the possibility that some year we might not be lucky. All it would take would be for mother earth to have a conniption some December and we'd be all mixed up.

The temperature zones would be in the Arctic, and some of us who suffer from the cold would have to learn to live like the Eskimos. Banana eaters in the tropics would have to get accustomed to pumpkin pie, and there would be confusion everywhere. As I say, all it would take would be a mild conniption—just enough to tilt the earth a few degrees further than it already is tilted at this season. There wouldn't be a thing we could do about it, either—just grin and bear it. We could adopt resolutions and pass laws all over the place and who'd care?

But enough of that. I want you to know that I have been training for Christmas dinner at your place, so don't hold back anything. I have cut way down on my smoking in order to whet the edge of my appetite. It will be razor-sharp when the time comes—in fact the time has come already. Your aunt says she never has known me to be on such an eating spree and that it isn't funny when food prices are high. I have stretched my stomach to championship proportions.

This morning we had panhaus—some of Elmer Snyder's special kind—and I ate a skilletful by myself. It makes me feel sorry for underprivileged folks who think breakfast is a dash of fruit juice, some stuff out of a box and a cup of coffee. Besides the panhaus I also made off with a couple of poached eggs and finished up with a helping of blackberries from the freezer. See what I mean by being in training?

I have your Christmas present and hope you will like it One thing about it—it's different. Remember the year I gave you the exercising machine? Well this one's even more different than that one was I hope it will be more useful than the exercise machine turned out to be. But that's up to you We'll arrive in time for supper on Christmas Eve. Don't touch the tree till we get there, because no one has the right touch with tinsel except me. You can handle the colored balls, lights and the rest of the doodads, but let me put on the tinsel.

Tell the boys to listen hard about 5 p. m. on Dec. 24. That noise won't be Santa and his reindeer. It will be Uncle George and Aunt Effie in their prewar automobile. We'll be seeing you then.

Chinese Deal Nets Paper $3,250,000

By The Associated Press

CARLYLE, Ill.—Employes of the weekly Carlyle "Union Banner" found their pay envelopes fattened by $100,000 extra for each—but the "bonus" was in the highly inflated Chinese currency. The editor, Arthur Jenkins, admitted the gag had been pulled on him first. An Army captain-friend in Nanking had sent with an order for a year's subscription the "payment"—$3,500,000 Chinese money.

OPENING PROGRAM PRESENTED AT HOME

Two Choral Groups Heard at Nativity Scene.

Many residents of Marion and vicinity motored about 10 miles to the Marion County Children's Home on the Delaware pike Monday evening during the early part of the evening to view the floodlighted representation of the Nativity scene which has been erected on the Home lawn and to hear pictures of the hour of Christmas music presented by two Marion choral groups, the Harding High school a cappella choir and the choir of the Emmanuel Baptist church.

This was the first of a series of programs to be given by various Marion groups each night this week at the Home. The programs are presented from the wing porch extending across the front of the home and they are open to the public.

The manger scene on the lawn is illuminated with a floodlight and figures including Mary, Joseph and the Wise Men.

Tonight's program will be by Girl Scout Troop 43 of Central Junior High school, sponsored by the CIO Labor Union of the Marion Power Shovel Co. at 7:30 and by The Serenaders, directed by L. G. Jones, at 8 p. m.

SALEM CHURCH PROGRAM

On Christmas eve a program will be presented at the Salem church of the Marseilles Methodist charge. Rev. E. B. Dean, pastor announced. Plans are being made for the Mifflin-Jackson-Marseilles Youth for Christ Watch night service Dec. 31, 9 p. m. to 12 at the Marseilles church.

Russ Carlyle Booked For Hospital Dance

Russ Carlyle, one of America's Newest Singing Stars and his orchestra will play the dance program for the Anniversary Ball to be sponsored by the Woman's Board of the Marion City hospital, Tuesday night, Dec. 28 at the Hy-Way Rollarena.

Featured with the band leader are Nancy Clayton, vocals, Norman Scott, novelty tunes, the Lamplighters quartet and the Caledonian choir.

Carlyle's career as a band leader was cut short a year after he organized his own orchestra by his entrance into armed services. During his three years in the Army he served at various stations throughout the United States, mainly in Special Services.

He re-formed his band immediately after his discharge from service in September 1946 and since that time has been heard from coast to coast from such outstanding spots as the Greenwich Village Inn New York, The Rainbo ballroom in Denver and he culminated a successful tour with a six-month engagement at the Blackhawk restaurant in Chicago, Ill.

Carlyle's vocalizing played an important role in Blue Barron's band and his recordings include such hits as "At a Perfume Counter," "The Isle of May" and "I Hadn't Anyone Till You."

Tickets for the dance may be obtained from any member of the Woman's Hospital Board.

CHILD DIES IN FIRE

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21—(AP)—One-year-old Jonathan Riggs burned to death yesterday when fire swept a third-floor tenement suite. Two brothers, Hugh, Jr. 4, and Jeffy, 2, were rescued by neighbors. Police said the mother was next door using a telephone.

Employer Reports On Vets Due Jan. 5

Harry Markey, in charge of the Veterans Administration Office, 196 South Main street, Marion, Ohio, today reminded World War II veterans taking on-job training under the GI Bill and their employers that the individual monthly reports of progress must be submitted to the VA or the veteran will lose his subsistence allowance.

Mr. Markey states that on-job training reports for the month of December are due Jan. 1. Subsistence payments will be suspended in all cases where these reports are not received by Jan. 5. Reports are to be sent to the Marion VA Office, or to the Mansfield VA office. Veterans who have been dropped from subsistence rolls when their monthly reports of progress failed to reach Veterans Administration in time, will be restored to the rolls as rapidly as the reports are received within the required time limit.

Reports of progress on VA Form 7-1905c are required for veterans enrolled under the GI Bill in job-training establishments and certain types of vocational schools. Reports are not required from veteran-students in colleges, other institutions of higher learning, institutional on-farm courses and corresponding courses.

Iron Ore Consumption Down for 11 Months

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21—(AP)—Iron ore consumed as of Dec. 1 of this year was a half million tons less than in the first 11 months of last year, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association reported today.

November consumption by steel furnaces totaled 7,018,143 gross tons, compared with 7,398,033 in October and 7,068,204 in Nov. 1947. For the 11 months to Dec. 1, the total was 73,236,591, compared with 73,735,969 tons in a like period last year.

Stocks on hand Dec. 1 at furnaces and on Lake Erie docks amounted to 43,160,223 tons—2,148,737 tons more than a year ago.

Bituminous coal loading at Lake Erie ports is still in progress. Two Nicholson steamers are still making daily trips between Toledo and River Rouge, Mich. W. J. McGarity, manager of The Ore & Coal exchange, estimates the season's total tonnage of bituminous coal loaded at Lake Erie ports will reach 54,500,000 net tons.

Social Affairs

MEMBERS of the Twenty Thirty club were joined by guests for their holiday dance Saturday evening in Columbian hall. A large Christmas tree and red and green streamers carried out a colorful decorative theme. Music for dancing from 9 to 12 o'clock was by Glenn Johnson and his orchestra. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Furstenberger of Fall River, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rose of Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Callahan, Miss Ruth Wilson, Harold Callahan of Columbus, William Forsythe of Ada and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sims. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zintel were chairmen of the host and hostess committee, and assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tozzer, Mr and Mrs David Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ayers and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swartz.

Members of the Marion County Engineers home were guests of members of Beta Gamma chapter, Lambda Chi Omega sorority, Sunday evening at Bowe's. They were given a treat and gifts and it was announced that the chapter would build an outdoor fireplace for the children at the home next spring. The children sang carols and several gave readings.

Election of officers for the new year was held at a meeting of the N.O.C. club Thursday evening with Mrs. Eileen Alexander at 345 Monroe street.

Mrs. Marilyn Reinwald was elected president; Mrs. Thelma Skinner, vice president; Mrs. Betty Andrews, secretary; Mrs. Mabel Russell, assistant secretary; Mrs. Juanita Hatch, treasurer, and Mrs. Alexander, reporter.

Secret sisters were revealed in a gift exchange and names were drawn for the new year. Honors in games went to Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Reinwald, Mrs. Hatch, Mrs. Rose Alice Rowland, Mrs. Donna Rowland, Mrs. Mary Emerson and Mrs. Dorothy Haubert, and special awards were won by Mrs. Haubert, Mrs. Andrews, and Mrs. Rowland. Mrs. Alexander was presented a gift from her secret sister in honor of her birthday. At the next meeting with Mrs. Andrews of 435 Bartram avenue, a potluck supper will be held.

Members of the J'Amene Sunshine club held a Christmas party and gift exchange Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Bish on Pleasant street. The evening's entertainment included group singing of Christmas carols, a tap dance number by Miss Judy Bish, accompanied by her mother, and contests with honors going to Mrs. Stella Saltz, Mrs Roy Snyder and Mrs. O. A. Ralston.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Augenstein of 827 Woodrow avenue were host and hostess for a meeting of the Mr. and Mrs. Pinochle club Saturday evening. In cards, high honors for the men went to Donald Ault, and high honors for the women to Mrs. Guy Lewis. A Christmas gift exchange followed. Decorations throughout the rooms were in keeping with the holiday theme. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ault of Girard avenue.

Announcement is being made of the marriage Saturday morning of Anna May Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thomas of Marseilles, and Adrian H. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs William A. Johnson of 180¼ North Main street. The double ring ceremony was performed at Newport, Ky., in the Methodist parsonage. For her wedding, the bride chose a dress in a brown shade with which she combined yellow accessories and corsage. She is an employe of Voll and Son Tailors on North Main street, and her husband is employed at the Houghton Sulky Co. They are making their home at 145¹₂ Canby court.

Mr and Mrs. E. R. Shinner of 365 South State street entertained with a dinner party Sunday evening at their home for the pleasure of employes of the Moskin Clothing store. Mr. Shinner is manager of the store. Tables were decorated in keeping with the Christmas season. A gift exchange was held and the evening was spent socially. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore, Mrs. Martha Mosk, Richard Baker, Charles Pensinger, Mrs. Nell Markwell, Mrs. Alice Pierce and Mrs. William Tuskes.

Burroughs Club Members Hold Christmas Party

THE home of Miss Lela Brookshire at 194 Olney avenue was the scene of the annual Christmas party for members of the Burroughs Nature club Monday evening. A program and short business session was followed by an evening of games and refreshments.

Miss Brookshire was in charge of a Christmas program presented by a group of students from Vernon Heights Junior High school, Roberta Heminger, Nancy Indoe, Harriet Johnson and Mary Ann Kuntz accompanied at the piano by Lenorette Smith, sang "Winter Wonderland," and Harriet Johnson sang "O Holy Night." Marian Smith read "Why the Chimes Rang," with a musical setting of Christmas carols by Lennett Smith at the piano and John Gantt, violin.

Miss Christine Reck arranged the games and was in charge of the gift exchange. For the latter the members cut two huge "Christmas pies" to choose their gifts. The table, arranged for refreshments, was centered with a large red candle in a setting of Christmas greenery and encircled with lighted Santa Claus candles and colorful balls. Decorations throughout the rooms were in the holiday motifs. Mrs John H. Clark, chairman, Mrs. Hal Barringer, Miss Marie Stull and Miss Dora Jacobs, members of the social committee, were in charge of the social hour. Mrs. Addie McGinnis was a guest.

During a short business session, Miss Connelly named Miss Edith Keeler, Mrs. Ferne West and Miss Grace Wingett to serve as a nominating committee for the annual election of officers.

MRS. JOHN H. ALLEN

Clay and Allen Ceremony Read At Mt. Olive

MT OLIVE Methodist church west of Green Camp was the scene of the wedding Sunday, Dec. 5, of Miss Betty Clay, daughter of Mr and Mrs Frank Clay of near LaRue, to John H. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs Lester Allen, also of LaRue. The double ring ceremony was read at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon by the pastor, Rev. F. Melvin Wentz.

Baskets of white pompons and mums, palms, ferns and lighted candles in two seven branch candelabra decorated the altar, and the pews were marked with white satin bows.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Beaver Bricker, pianist, and Misses Jean and Jane Uncapher, vocalists. Mrs. Bricker played "Wonderful One," "Londonderry Air," "Love's Greetings," "Gypsy Love Song," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," "Brahm's Waltz," and the traditional wedding marches. The vocal duet numbers were "Indian Love Call," "Because," "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly." During the ceremony, Mrs. Bricker played "Au Matin."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white gabardine. With this she combined gold accessories and wore a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible topped with white angel skin ribbon and plumosis. Miss Dorothy Watkins, attending the bride as maid of honor, was attired in a dress of black crepe with black accessories and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

William Allen, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and ushers were Donald Allen, another brother of the bridegroom, and Robert Cook, a cousin of the bride. Master Paul Clay, brother of the bride, lighted the candles.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clay chose a black crepe dress with black accessories. Mrs. Allen was attired in a navy blue dress with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception for 50 guests at the home of the brides parents followed the ceremony. The bride's table, centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was decorated in her chosen colors of rose and white. Serving were Mrs. Paul Foos, Miss Lois Rothfuss and Miss Doris Allen.

Mrs. Allen was graduated from LaRue High school in 1944 and the Marion Business college. She was employed until recently at the Marion County Extension office. Mr. Allen, a graduate of LaRue High school with the class of 1942, is engaged in farming. The couple are making their home on a farm near LaRue.

At the rehearsal party Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Clay presented compacts to the maid of honor and vocalists and hand-painted pictures to the pianist, and Mr. Allen gave tie clasps to his attendants.

Weddings

Mr and Mrs Ora E. Batterman of 871 North State street are announcing the marriage of their daughter June to Richard Wilson, son of Mr and Mrs H. C. Wilson of 304 Blaine avenue. The double ring ceremony was read Thursday evening, Dec. 16, at the home of Dr. C. E. Hershey on Homer street.

The bride was attired in a white wool street length dress with brown accessories. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid and showered with white streamers.

Her attendants were Mrs Dolly Hackworth and Mrs. Evelyn Dane as bridesmaids. Mrs Hackworth wore a gray suit and a corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Dane was attired in a gray street length dress with a corsage of red roses.

Jack Sullivan served as best man for the bridegroom.

Guests at the wedding were Miss Archie Deitrich, Mrs Jill Valebus, Glen Dane Jr. and Robert Mitchel.

Mr. and Mrs Wilson are making their home in a newly furnished apartment at 333 Olney avenue.

CLASS HOLDS YULE PARTY

Annual Christmas party of the Alpha Delta class of Central Christian church was held at the home of Mrs Herman Heisler at 580 Bellefontaine avenue Thursday night. Christmas decorations were used throughout the rooms. Mrs. George Pickering and Mrs Edwin Merrell were assistant hostesses. Devotions were by Miss Florence Betz, and Miss Inez McGuire presided for business. Instead of a gift exchange, each member gave money to be used for a gift for a needy person. A program of music in keeping with the season was presented. Contest honors went to Mrs Nadine Gilmore.

2 TRAFFIC MISHAPS, 1 ARREST LISTED

Ice, Snow Blamed for Accident Near Marengo.

The highway patrol reported two minor traffic accidents and one traffic arrest for the last 24 hours.

Ice and snow on the road caused a collision between cars driven by James Carsner and Arlie M. Bellamy both of near Marengo, at 4:20 p. m. yesterday a mile east of Marengo. The accident occurred at the intersection of Morrow county roads 213 and 212. Damage to both vehicles was slight.

Two cars were damaged when a third rolled out of a Mt. Gilead parking lot at 3:30 p. m. yesterday. A car owned by Jacob Gompf of Mt. Gilead began to move on a sloping parking lot on South Rich street and struck parked cars owned by Glen Clark of Chesterville and Charles Fogo of Mt. Gilead. Damage was slight to all three vehicles.

Charles Martin of near Frazeysburg was fined $5 and costs by Richwood mayor's court for driving a vehicle in unsafe condition. He was arrested at 5:50 p. m. yesterday.

BONUS MARK RISES

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 21—Ohio's World War II bonus payments are nearing the $200,000,000 mark. The bonus commission announced yesterday checks totaling $195,458,785 have been issued. Payments in the last week were listed as $1,330,771.72.

Novel Yule Decoration At Marion Residence

An outside Christmas decoration here during the holiday season is attracting a great deal of attention at the Earl E. Sayre residence at 473 North Greenwood street.

On their front porch, Mr Sayre and his family have set up a small organ, complete with chimes, keyboard and foot pipes and with a small, white-haired woman seated at the organ. Small candles burn at either side of the arrangement, and Christmas lights and greenery decorate and light the scene. All the traditional Christmas carols and hymns are played throughout the evening.

On the average, thunderstorms are twice as frequent in Ohio as they are in northern New England.
